Hospice program planned for area

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer

Hospices—a new concept in the home care and medical treatment of terminally ill patients—will be adopted on a cradle-to-grave basis in a program being advanced here by St. Elizabeth Hospital and leaders of the medical profession.

Decision to establish a Hospice program was reached during a series of preliminary meetings in which the complexities of such an operation were reviewed on the basis of experiences in other localities, and the feasibility of conducting the program in this area were discussed.

As a result, a meeting of representatives of medical, civic, governmental and social fields will be held in the cafeteria at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:30 a.m. Oct. 16 to take the first steps toward instituting what will be known as Madison County Hospice. Spearheading the organization work at St. Elizabeth Hospital is Dr. Shabbir Sadfar, a cancer specialist and staff member at St. Elizabeth who has emphasized that the success of the program will depend upon volunteers in all phases of medical, nursing and social professions to make the program work.

Dr. Sadfar, also a professor at Washington University, has done much of the groundwork in developing the idea of the Hospice program for this area and other parts of Madison County. Under present planning, the program would be a countywide team effort and not solely a hospital project, it was explained.

Hospice is a specialized health care program emphasizing the management of pain and other symptoms associated with terminal illness, and providing care for the family as well as the patient. Hospice makes the family the unit of care, centers much of the caring process in the home and seeks to enable the patient to carry on an alert and pain-free existence, medical experts explain.

The Hospice concept, as brought from Britain to the United States, has resulted in a number of chapters throughout this country, but hospital authorities note that the most outstanding and most successful program is at New Haven, Conn., where experiences and findings form much of the basis on which the local program will be founded.

While in some instances Hospice provides inpatient care in hospital surroundings, the effort is centered on home care and making the patient comfortable in his home surroundings.

The Madison County program will be established strictly as an outpatient care project, according to present plans.

The Hospice home care team involves physicians, nurses, social workers, physical therapists, secretaries, pastoral counselors and trained volunteers in caring for patients and in helping families through the time of illness and readjustment.

Members of the staff would make regular house visits and would be on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week to make house calls to patients on the program. The medical team seeks to control the symptoms of patients with a limited life expectancy for whom cure is no longer a reality.

Hospital authorities here report that much interest has been shown in the preliminary discussions for establishment of the Hospice program locally.

Moss won't run again

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

Pontoon Beach Village Board President Floyd David Moss announced Tuesday evening that he will not seek re-election when his current term expires in mid-April and he will support Trustee Paul Bennett for president.

Moss became the second elected board president in the village's history when he won the April 1973 election. Thomas Stain was selected the village's first president, often mistakenly called "mayor," when Pontoon Beach was chartered in 1963. He served nine years until resigning in January 1977, following a grand jury investigation into the village government.

Otto Kreher was appointed as board president on Stain's recommendation and served as the village's only appointed president until the April 1973 election when Kreher decided not to seek election. Moss was selected by the voters. Moss was re-elected in 1975.

In an exclusive announcement to the Press-Record, Moss said he is not seeking a third term because he feels he has accomplished his goals as president and would like to see new leadership and new ideas.

"Before I leave office, I will show that my original five-point program for village improvement has been completed during my term in office, including the village-wide street resurfacing program now under way and the sanitary sewers now under construction," he stated.

"I have been in village office 10 years, including six as mayor, and I believe it is time for someone else to lead the village. I have seen the things I wanted to see come about."

"I want to stay active in the government of Pontoon Beach, but not as mayor," he stated.

Moss also noted that the village has hired the planning firm of David Davies & Associates to prepare comprehensive plans for village growth and said, "under a new mayor, I believe we will see orderly

Surf's up! $1.6 million park bonds are planned

By BILL WINTER

Editor

A $1,670,000 bond issue to improve Granite City Park District facilities was given tentative approval last night by park commissioners, who voiced enthusiasm for a Wilson Park surfing-swimming pool and other proposed improvements.

Situated immediately east of the present ice skating center, the new pool is seen as having a synergistic, mutually beneficial link with the skating rink. A new locker room and also the existing parking facilities would be shared, board members noted.

With the new pool and with improvements to the ice rink, substantially increased attendance is forecast, offsetting some of the construction cost and permitting park services to be expanded. A breakdown of the program to be submitted to voters Dec. 2 shows $1,262,991 for the pool, $281,800 for work on the rink, $77,000 for tennis courts, $60,000 for playgrounds and equipment and $82,909 for incidental costs.

Wilson Park, Worthen Park and West Granite Park are included in the scheduled improvements.

A resolution enacted last night instructed the park district staff, architects and attorneys to undertake formalization

Mehelic defends purchases

Costly items for township

Research by the Press-Record has disclosed that Namekoi Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic has purchased household-sized cans of starting fluid for $5.41 per can, cans of hand cleaner at $4.91 per can, and spray cans of windshield deicer for $4.91 per can.

Weed killer—which sells in many instances for $2.65 per gallon—has been bought at a cost to the township of $13.95 per gallon. All the purchases cited were from the same vendors. Due to the amounts purchased, there was no competitive bidding.

Mehelic told the Press-Record he realizes he probably did have the township pay too much for some items early this year, but said he has changed to two other vendors and believes his prices now are in line with the market.

Invoices in township records show deliveries from Universal Research Corp. and Universal Laboratories, Inc., of the above items and others, many at prices which exceed the prices at local wholesale supply outlets for apparently similar products.

An invoice dated Jan. 16, 1978, shows

Universal Research shipped three 55-gallon drums of weed and brush killer to the township at a total cost of $2,301, or $13.95 per gallon for the 165 gallons.

Barrels in the township garage are premixed weed and brush killer, officials reported. Crown Chemical in St. Louis said that for similar premixed weed killer, the chemical is available for $2.65 per gallon in 55-gallon drums.

When the bill was questioned by another official, Mehelic contacted the company and received a corrected bill from Universal Laboratories charging $5.60 per gallon. The correction said a secretary charged for the wrong chemical.

Although Namekoi trustees contacted do not recall the corrected bill being presented for approval, even at $5.60 per gallon, the price paid for the weed killer was $2.95 more per gallon, the price paid for the weed killer was $2.95 more per gallon than if purchased from Crown, or more than twice as much.

Between December 1977 and February of this year, invoices show shipments totaling $11,782 from Universal Research.

NEW PONTON LEADER? Pontoon Beach Village Board President Floyd David Moss, left, moments after announcing he will retire as the village's leader in mid-April, shakes the hand of Village Trustee Paul Bennett, who Moss will support as his successor.

Moss announced Tuesday night he does not plan to seek re-election when his term expires and Bennett, announced his candidacy for the village board president post.

'Pay me for what I know'

A secretly-taped 1976 telephone conversation between Madison Alderman Ronald Graywacz and Walter Young, a former Collinsville Road barfly, house operator who died in 1977, reflects a desire that someone "pay me for what I know."

Graywacz, Richard Krishok and Edward Goclan are to be sentenced tomorrow after being convicted in July of racketeering and perjury. The phone conversation was one of the exhibits at their trial in the federal court at Alton.

In the concluding portion of the telephone transcript, Young comments, "I'd rather get — I'd like to get me an island, and move out in the middle of it."

Graywacz: "I'm just, I'm surprised that guy, uh, that he came back up and showed you that letter (on alleged Madison County sheriff department activities)."

Young: "I think what he come up here for was on this, uh, stolen pickup truck deal. And he just wanted to mess with my mind a little bit."

"I mean, really, he might be wantin' me to see if I'm gonna call somebody, too. I don't know."

G. "Yeah, that could be."

Y. "Which, if that's what he wanted to know, well, heck, I did it."

G. "Uh, that's right. I don't care. Hey, they can be listenin' on the phone right now."

"And that's my feelings about this whole thing, anymore — is I'm not hidin' nothin'."

Y. "Hey, that's — that's good."

G. "Ya know?"
Y. "That's good. That's good."
G. "Ya know (Sheriff) John Maeras. He gets on the phone and he'll go, well I, I, I'll meet ya somewhere, I can't talk on the phone."

New business

Swiss Farms II will open in mid-October at 1308 Nineteenth St., it was announced Tuesday by Loren Worthen, spokesman for a group of investors that has bought three new businesses to downtown Granite City this year after purchasing the Washington Theater building complex.

The new business will be operated by Mrs. Ruth Valin, Mrs. Billie Ogg and her son, Dennis Ogg, who operates a Swiss Farms store in Wood River.

The new store will be a delicatessen and will handle a variety of cheese and health foods in addition to sandwiches and other delicatessen items.

Worthen said, "We are going to be working as hard as we can to remodel both the inside and outside of the building for the new store."

"Downtown Granite City is a good place to do business and I believe in its future, but we all have to work together to support the area."

The building formerly housed the Pub Tavern.

Newsmakers

Eugene L. Aiassi is a local name that is in the news almost throughout the year, every year.

This week, it was announced that the Gateway East Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa will hold its first meeting of the new school year on Oct. 7. The 1978-79 secretary of the chapter? You guessed it.

Art education consultant in the Granite City community unit school district, Aiassi also is making news this month through publication of a book he has written for the school system.

Perhaps best known here for annual spring "Acres of Art" displays of students' artworks, Aiassi is a nationally-recognized authority in the field of art in the schools.

A copyright has just been issued for his book, "Art Education for Special Education," and it is the first copyrighted material to be developed by the Granite

China clean, fed but poor

By ALFRED E. KRUMSIEK

A view of Red China was provided here Monday night — and not through rose-colored glasses.

At the September meeting of Travelers Abroad, in Frasier Junior High, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Stoevers gave an illustrated lecture on their recent trip into Communist China.

This three-day jaunt into the world's most populous nation was a small part of an 83-day tour around the world in The Rotterdam, beginning at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The Stoevers entered China at Hong Kong, which is still nominally ruled by Great Britain and is the commercial and social gateway from the Communist world to the outside.

During the first 30 years of the Communist ascendancy, most tourists were banned in China, but in the early 1970s this ruling was gradually relaxed so that today thousands can enter and find excellent accommodations and English-speaking guides.

One rule that was impressed upon the Stoevers' tour group was: "Never speak of 'Red China,' but always say 'The People's Republic of China.'"

Upon entering Red China, tourists were given a list of places which they were not to photograph. But when this order was repeatedly violated, there were no arrests and no reprimands from the police.

Foreign currencies are freely exchanged, but no Chinese money may be taken out of the country. This ruling was also violated by the tourists. The govern-

BACK TO WORK. Bricklayer Clem Nischwitz of the Edwardsville Bricklayers Union lays block at the Granite City police station project Tuesday as work was resumed on the construction. Three bricklayers reported on the job after a delay of 10 working days during which officials say bricklayers did not report on the project because of commitments made on other jobs. The work, which will be 50 percent complete this week, also was delayed 29 working days by the Aug. 1 to Sept. 11 strike by laborers.

Woman abducted, raped

A rape occurring at 3 p.m. Saturday in Granite City came to light Monday when the victim, who had been emotionally distressed since the attack, reported the incident to police.

The 27-year-old Granite City woman told authorities she was walking home from a doctor's office when a man seated in an auto on a parking area in the 3000 block of Madison Avenue called her first name.

Thinking she knew the person, she walked to the auto, but failed to recognize any of the three men inside and backed away from the vehicle, she related.

A man got out of the car from the rear seat and grabbed the woman, pushing her onto the seat and then down to the floor. Something was placed over her head.

She said the man who grabbed and pulled her inside the car was of this build with dirty reddish blond hair, shoulder length. He was wearing blue jeans.

If she failed to cooperate with the men they would kill her, she was told by her captors.

The woman, who is married, reported being raped by one man while the auto was moving and by another man when the vehicle was stopped.

The driver and a passenger were in the front seats. She believed it was the passenger who committed the second rape, she told police.

She described another man in the vehicle as heavy set with black curly hair.

Before being let out of the car on the National Food store lot, at Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue, one of the men cursed her and called her names, the victim reported.

Another man asked her repeatedly, "Don't you remember me?" she said. "I said I didn't know him," she told officers.

The man with black curly hair yelled as the car was driven away. "You know you look like a . . .," again saying the woman's first name.

Being emotionally upset by the attack, the victim failed to tell her husband immediately and the incident was not reported until the couple informed police Monday.

Repairs will start on Venice homes

By "MICK" STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Work on the Venice housing rehabilitation program supervised by the Venice Community Development Committee will begin Monday, it was announced at the Tuesday night meeting of the Venice City Council.

The council approved a "blanket" building permit for 10 homes which require repair and replacement work such as roofing, steps and minor modifications.

The council was informed that $8,863 will be spent on these ten houses, not counting electrical work which will be contracted on bids, according to Izola Robinson, secretary to the Community Development Committee.

Venice has received a $100,000 grant and intends to repair at least 36 homes. More homes will be repaired if funds are available.

An additional $25,000 grant request is being sent to the federal government this week.

The committee had 108 applications for home repair work. Choice was made by the local committee based on the person's age, income and need.

The amount of grant money obtained will determine how many homes can be fixed, a committee spokesman said.

"We'd like to take care of all the people, but this is impossible, so the committee spent several hours work reviewing the applications and looking at the houses. As we get the monies, we'll do more," John Henry Williams, chairman of the Community Development Committee, said.

The council approved a building permit for a $14,000 mobile home to be placed at 1012 Market St., Venice, by Bird Reed.

The police report for the month of August 1978 showed $10 was received from the Circuit Court, with 31 adult arrests and seven juvenile arrests.

A lengthy discussion on the care and repair of several Venice streets was held. One citizen maintained the streets are not properly or regularly swept and that using black sealer and rock did little if anything for the streets.

Concern was expressed concerning numerous holes in the streets and at corners.

Mayor William Ebersoldt assured the citizens that he will look into the problems and asked for the citizens help in developing a plan for better maintenance.

Mayor Ebersoldt said current vacancies on the Community Development Committee will be filled as soon as possible. Four vacancies now exist.

Purchases

or Universal Laboratories to Mebelic's department. All the Universal bills which have a salesman's name on them have the same name.

The name appears on both the invoices from Universal Research and Universal Laboratories, with a home office in Dallas, Tex., and Universal Laboratories, Inc., which has St. Louis on its letterhead.

Purchases from Universal Research include starting fluid and snow blow wax at $5.41 per can, penetrating oil at $5.25 per can, two 51-pound cases of Gent-L-Clean for $220, parts cleaner at $2.95 a gallon, and gas additive for $12.95 per gallon. Also, Steam-O-Clean for $7.95 per gallon, degreaser for $8.95 per gallon, ice-melting pellets for $495 per ton, battery cleaner for $4.00 per can, and "Sludge Flo" for $9.95 per gallon.

Universal Laboratories in February sold the highway department 20 five-gallon containers of concrete patching material on a "trial offer," according to the invoice, at $9.96 per gallon.

A check at a downtown auto supply dealer showed much lower retail prices on some items, apparently comparable items, even when purchasing one can at a time over the counter.

"Of course, we could offer lower prices on purchases by the case," the downtown dealer's salesman noted.

He said windshield de-icer sells over-the-counter for $1.33 per can (the township pays $4.91), glass cleaner is $1.29 per bottle (the township pays $6.60), and battery cleaner sells in a small can for 99 cents (the township pays $4.08, presumably for a larger can).

The salesman said he had not heard of Sludge Flo, but did have liquids designed to control sludge in transmissions for much less than $9.95 per gallon, the price the township pays for Sludge Flo.

Mebelic said Wednesday he still does business with Universal Laboratories and with the same salesman he used to have at Universal Research, but said they are totally different companies. He said the salesman quit at one firm and went to work at the other.

"I won't be burned twice and you can be assured I will not be doing business with Universal Research," Mebelic asserted. He said he formerly purchased concentrated weed killer for $18 per gallon and believed $13.95 per gallon was a good price. He contended the price quote of $2.65 per gallon, even for pre-mixed weed killer, is an "unreasonably low price and commented, 'I'll bet you can't buy it for that price.'

Mebelic alleged that political enemies may have had a hand in citing a lower price, "in an attempt to make me look bad."

He charged that Trustee W. Lee Adams, who requested a comparison price quote, hinted the purchase might be for the township, in obtaining the information.

Mebelic said that when he realized that he may have been paying too much for some things — and that political enemies were about to try and use the information against him — he took his bills to County Highway Superintendent Les Miller, who has been examining them.

Mebelic also said the prices he approved may not be as high as they sound, since most materials purchased by the can are in large cans, many in the 15 to 20-cube range.

The township highway commissioner said some enemies are saying they overheard him and a salesman talking about money, but he called the rumors unfounded because the two were playing gin rummy at the time and only were talking about the money being bet.

Mebelic pledged that future bills presented to the Town Board for payment to Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, American Federation of Women's Clubs, American Association of University Women, National Secretaries Association, Coterie, A.O. Smith Women's Group, Advertising Club of St. Louis, Elletts, Grand B's BPW and Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

"Many of the prices still sound high — like ice melting pellets for $495 a ton — but just try to buy it for that. Prices have gone up even higher," he concluded.

City district for regular use. It also is one of the first such books for handicapped and gifted students in the U.S.

Alais comments, "For several years I've observed a need for attention being placed on art education for the exceptional child."

"State and federal legislation now requires that all handicapped children be provided with a free and appropriate education. Art education should be an integral part of that appropriate education."

"It is hoped that many of the exceptional children denied an opportunity to participate in the school arts program in the past will now be included in this valuable experience."

"With emphasis on placing the exceptional child in the least restrictive environment — or, as it is commonly known, 'mainstreaming' the child — many of the special children are now participating in the schools' art, music and physical education programs with their non-handicapped peers."

"Now the art teachers are suddenly finding these exceptional children in their classes and, in most cases, they have not been adequately prepared. Many misconceptions and fears are expressed by these teachers. There is a concern for how and what to teach these children."

"This new attempt to identify who these children are and what some expected characteristics might be. They are only general guidelines. The art teacher should be in close communication with the special educator, who may know the children's strengths and weaknesses but who may be unfamiliar with the goals and objectives of art education," Alais noted.

"Working together, the art educator and the special educator can develop art activities which will help the child grow and learn. The ideal art program for the exceptional child is not limited to making a product; the process that the child goes through to progress through the different developmental stages and to explore and create to the best of his or her ability. Similar activities may have to be repeated several times before the child grasps the concepts which might be quickly understood by a 'normal' child."

"Care must be taken not 'help' the exceptional child too much. The product might not be as attractive as it would have been if the pieces had been cut out for the child, but, the child will have had the chance to use whatever skills he or she does have and to try to express through art."

"Many exceptional children are hesitant when given the freedom to create. They are so accustomed to failure that they are afraid to try."

"An activity needs to be structured so that the directions are clear and the children are not overwhelmed by materials."

"They must be allowed and encouraged to use their creative skills in working on the activity. They need the opportunity to make choices — perhaps between two or three materials rather than seven or eight. And, most importantly, they need to know that what they produce will be accepted."

"Only when they feel comfortable in their ability to succeed will they really be able to participate in an art education program," Alais believes.

"There really is not a separate art education curriculum for the exceptional child. Rather, what is needed is a knowledge of the developmental level of the child, and of the expected abilities of a normal child at that developmental stage."

"By combining these two pieces of information, an appropriate art education program can be designed for any child and incorporates whatever modifications may be necessary."

"The handicapped child may remain at a developmental level much longer than a normal child would, but, as long as this is expected, the art education teacher can plan accordingly."

"The curriculum guide can serve two necessary purposes. The first is to help art educators who are providing services to the exceptional child to structure an effective and appropriate art education program."

"Secondly, it can also serve as a guide for special education teachers who want to do more art activities with their children. By following developmental guidelines — and by communicating with each other — both the art educator and the special educator can help their students in working with exceptional children," he concludes.

Alais has been active in the Phi Delta Kappa group since its formation. Owen Humphrey, Granite City curriculum coordinator, chapter historian.

The Gateway East Chapter will meet at 9 a.m. Oct. 7 at the Round Table Restaurant, Highway 157, Collinsville. Topic will be "The United Kingdom Educational Experience," and the speaker will be Mrs. Katie Wright.

Past president of art educators in the state, Alais has been a recipient of the top-honored award of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

ment refuses to deal with the American Express Company in any way, and will not cash its travelers' checks.

The little red book, "Thoughts of Chairman Mao", which is a sort of Communist Bible, is available in many foreign languages, including English, and sells everywhere for $1.

After reading about some six or seven little paragraphs on the importance of hard work, thrift and cooperation with one's neighbors and co-workers, Mrs. Stoevers remarked that many of Mao's principles, like the sayings of Poor Richard in 18th century U.S.A., are timeless and universal and might well be more emphasized in our own country today.

The tourist in Communist China is at once impressed by the many big red signs bearing sayings of Chairman Mao, along with large pictures of Chinese workers, men and women, going to their work joyfully.

This is propaganda, of course. But surprisingly enough, the many photos which the Stoevers took of children at play or walking to school, and of adults on their way to work, invariably showed happy faces.

This was a most remarkable contrast to similar pictures which the Stoevers took in Russia on a previous trip. In Russia, where the Marxist philosophy also prevails, the composite face was one of gloom and resignation.

Western visitors are still a curiosity in China. Children and adults stare at the swarms of tourists, but always with a friendly smile.

On the other hand, in the many schools which the Stoevers visited and photographed, pupils, in language classrooms or machine shops paid almost no attention to the visitors, but plied their assigned tasks with complete concentration.

Tourists find the hotel rooms and restaurants immaculately clean and comfortable equipped. The only complaint was the dim lighting. Railroad cars even have lace curtains and dollies.

China is still an agricultural country, and the Stoevers are fully convinced that the peasants are far better off than they were under the old regime.

In former times, there were many, many families in which thousands died of hunger. Today, with a much larger population, there are no famines. Work is incessant and exhausting, but the people do eat.

The upper class, of course, Stoevers said, has ceased to exist. China is divided into 26,000 communes, each being an independent entity with its own manager, its own school system, hospital and stores.

The one the Stoevers visited had 16,000 inhabitants. Examining an enormous billboard-like structure covered with many cards and a vast amount of writing, Stoevers was told it was a work-assignment board which the people observed regularly.

Travel is by bicycle; automobiles are a rare sight indeed, although there are motor trucks.

A sort of depressing monotony is produced by the dull, grey colored, unisex clothing which the multitudes wear.

Among the tourists, lots were drawn for 50 persons to make a thousand-mile trip to Peking. The Stoevers were not among the winners. But a companion, who was brought back some beautiful pictures of the forbidden city, including several views of the Great Wall. These the Stoevers showed the Granite City audience.

Visitors at this meeting included Mr. and Mrs. August Thielker and Miss Barbara Williams.

Venice Jaycees are organizing

The Venice City Council Tuesday night welcomed and offered support to a Venice Jaycees chapter which is currently being organized.

Jaycees is a national community service organization for young men 18 to 35 years of age, with associate memberships for men over 35.

The new club is being sponsored by the Highland Jaycees who are helping with the organization.

It was explained to the council by Anthony London, that membership is for both the north and south ends of the city.

It is the Jaycees purpose, according to London, to work with the youth and to do whatever they can to improve the city.

Mayor William Ebehold said, "I am very glad to see this group get started and help with our community. Anytime I can be of help just let me know and I am sure I speak for the council when I say all of us are willing to help."

tells you I mean, 'cause, we might not be the smartest persons goin', but we're not ignorant."

"And, uh, 'cause they said the other day somethin' about if we have a grand jury, will you come to it."

"I said, well, I'd be an idiot to tell you no, 'cause all you gotta do is hand me a paper and I know I'm goin'."

G. "Yeah, but they wanna get along with ya because then they know, they know that you'll answer the questions."

Y. "Well, that's the reason I said yes, too. Because, see, I know that if they give me a paper, I'm gonna go anyway."

G. "Yeah, you don't, they know that you don't have to answer the questions."

Y. "Right, Right."

G. "They want ya to go on a friendly basis."

Y. "Right, And hey, I tried to act friendly with 'em."

G. "I'll tell ya what, I'm not gonna go on a friendly basis, because somebody's gonna pay me for what I know now, I've paid my way."

Y. "Right."

G. "Them sons of guns have done nothin' for me but downgrade me, you know."

Y. "Right."

G. "Hey, I don't give a darn if the FBI or FBI, anybody — somebody's gonna pay me for my way."

Y. "Well, I mean, I don't know that that. But, uh, I know there's gonna be some satisfaction."

G. "Well, my satisfaction would be for them sons of guns all to go through what I went through."

annexation and growth in Pontoon Beach."

The board president also pledged his support to Bennett, stating, "I will support 100 percent. He has been on the board with me this last six years and we have worked for the same things."

"I would hate to see someone new come in and start over at base zero," Moss concluded.

Bennett said he is happy to have Moss' support and explained his reasons for seeking the president's position.

"I anticipate growth with new sanitary sewers and I would like to be part of it. The sewer program is what we have been waiting for. We were at a standstill as far as growth, without sewers."

"Now I hope we can attract a new shopping center, some light industry, new homes and more businesses to help the tax base of the whole area."

"It is my sincere hope the village can continue to operate without having to impose real estate taxes on its residents."

He concluded, "I will welcome any incumbents up for re-election to run with me, if they so desire."

Moss is credited with taking control of the village during a very turbulent time and lending some stability to village government.

The years preceding his election were marked with strong divisions on the board, frequent shakeups and firings in the police department and a county grand jury investigation into the board's activities.

His announcement of plans to retire followed Tuesday night's regular village board meeting at which the absence of the board secretary led to recessing the meeting to 10 a.m. Saturday.

"I have no bills, no minutes and no correspondence. There isn't much we can do tonight," he announced.

The board did discuss the possible annexation of a planned subdivision with the owner informally before adjourning the meeting. The man was told that the village's planning firm is completing a subdivision ordinance for the village and a copy will be given to the man before his property is annexed, so he will know the village's requirements before entering.

Bennett first was elected to the board of trustees in 1973 on the Village Improvement Party ticket, headed by Moss.

He resigned from the board Nov. 20, 1975, for undisclosed reasons, but accepted reappointment to fill his own vacancy in April of 1976.

In 1977, he was re-elected without opposition. Bennett, 44, of 18 Fontainebleau Drive, operates the Pontoon Fish service station. He and his wife, Edna, have four children. He has been a village resident 35 years.

Some Mitchell residents told to boil water

Residents of the Brooks Subdivision in Mitchell are being warned to boil their drinking water due to the possibility of contamination from a water main having broken yesterday afternoon.

Construction of sanitary sewers at Tennessee Avenue and English Place was the cause of a six-inch water line being bumped and cracked at about 3:20 p.m. yesterday.

Water to the area was turned off immediately and repairs required about 90 minutes. The water was turned on again in the evening and the warning to boil water until further notice was issued for Brooks Subdivision residents.

The water was being tested today and will undergo laboratory analysis. Results are expected about noon Friday and an announcement will be issued when the purity of the water is confirmed.

Mitchell residents involved in the warning area are those living on English, Margaret, Chouteau, Barkley, Ashland, Lenox, Tennessee, Springfield and Fleming. Water company officials said.

Medical care and supportive counseling involve both the patient and family by day in their homes. The team also is on call for emergencies at night and on weekends, it was noted.

A vital aspect in maintaining family cohesion is the training of a "primary care person" in nursing methods. Such training would allow someone in the family to participate actively in the care of the patient.

In addition, Hospice volunteer services permit the family to have more free time to draw closer to the patient and to one another. By thus incorporating the family into the patient-care system, the program reduces the patient's anguish of loneliness and isolation and improves the ability of the Hospice team to provide support for the family before and after the patient's death.

Maintenance of the family as a cohesive, supportive unit, provision for the relief of loneliness and separation anxiety, and symptom control for the maximum comfort and alertness of the dying patient are key objectives of the Hospice staff.

If the needs of the patient's family are inadequately attended to, attempts at meaningful care of the patient may be in vain, a spokesman noted.

Thus, consideration of the family is accepted as an essential component of home care. The patient's behavioral patterns often undergo a marked change, and overlapping defenses of denial and symptoms of depression dominate their relationships with others.

At this time the medical personnel, and more especially the families, desperately need to understand that the patient's changed behavior is not a result of something they may or may not have done, but a predictable response to a very difficult situation.

Only when feelings of anger, guilt, and loneliness experienced by the family members are vented and dissipated can the unspoken sense of alienation in the dying patient be alleviated. Family problems are often too closely related to interaction with the terminally ill cancer patient to go unheeded, authorities asserted.

Schools with family hygiene class must teach alternatives to abortion

Governor James R. Thompson has approved legislation to add the teaching of "alternatives to abortion" if a school district presently teaches family hygiene and sex education courses.

The measure, House Bill 2684, further requires the state superintendent of education to prepare appropriate courses of instruction for school districts to include the new subject matter.

The new law took effect immediately when the governor approved it during the weekend.

"In the past, I have vetoed legislation which would take away the right of poor women and state employees to decide, along with their physicians, whether to have an abortion," Thompson said.

"I think the constitution requires that they be permitted the freedom to make their own choice."

"On the other hand, I recognize and fully appreciate the efforts of people in the 'pro-life' movement who believe there are alternatives to abortion."

"If women are to make the choice, it should be a fully informed one," Thompson said. "They should not have to decide without knowing both sides of the argument."

"Because I feel that it is right to provide a framework for making an informed choice, as well as the choice itself, I agree with the purpose of this measure."

Sponsor of the proposal was Senator LeRoy W. Lemke, Chicago. Lemke's measure was added to a bill that began as an effort to make inmates in state correctional facilities who are 17 (previously 19) or older eligible to take the high school equivalency (General Educational Development) test.

The legislation does that, as well as providing the "alternatives to abortion" in future instruction.

Legislation seeks to curb $4 billion yearly car thefts

Senator Joseph R. Biden, Jr. (D-Del.) and Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) introduced legislation Monday to curb the nation's surging $4 billion-a-year trafficking in stolen autos, which they said has increasingly attracted organized crime involvement.

In a joint statement, Biden and Percy said, "With an automobile theft taking place in this country every 32 seconds and almost one million cars stolen annually, this legislation provides the means necessary to put so-called 'chop shops' out of business and to deflate the efforts of professional car thieves."

"At one time, auto theft was almost exclusively a teenage lark that resulted mostly in nothing worse than a joy ride and the recovery of the vehicle intact in a matter of days, if not hours.

"The joy ride is over, auto theft has become an ugly and expensive crime for every motorist, every auto insurance policyholder, and every taxpayer."

"Chop shops" are described as clandestine garages where stolen autos are disassembled by high-speed crews. Auto sheet metal parts are then sold at big profits, usually before the theft can even be recorded in the National Crime Information Center computer, according to law enforcement experts.

The anti-theft bill—the Motor Vehicle Theft Prevention Act of 1978—was drafted by the Federal Interagency Committee on Auto Theft after three years of study. The FICAT is composed of representatives from the Office of Management and Budget and the Departments of Justice, State, Transportation, Treasury and Commerce.

The Biden-Percy bill authorizes the secretary of transportation to require placement of vehicle identification numbers (VINs) on such sheet metal parts as doors, fenders, roofs and hoods. Presently, the VINs only appear on automobile dashboards and certain moving parts.

Sen. Biden, chairman of the Subcommittee on Criminal Law and Procedures of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said, "Automobile theft frauds have become a serious national issue. In my own state of Delaware, the theft rate is the twelfth highest in the nation at 484 cars stolen per 100,000 inhabitants in 1976, compared with the national average of 446.1."

"In fairness to Delaware's law enforcement community, that's probably because of our location on Interstate 95—a favorite trafficking route for organized car rings located in Pennsylvania, in New Jersey, and along the East Coast."

Sen. Percy, the ranking minority member of the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, which is investigating organized crime's activities, added, "In Chicago 11 organized crime murders have been linked to 'chop shops' operations, the latest only 18 days ago."

"In New York City, at least four organized crime killings last year were associated with auto theft frauds."

"It is apparent that organized crime elements are directing highly-sophisticated theft operations in many of our major cities, and are operating with impunity across state lines and international borders."

Law enforcement experts believe that if salvage yard owners realize that the stolen body parts they purchase can be traced back to the original owner, they may be less apt to deal in "hot" parts.

Consequently, with the reduction in the number of firms that will deal in stolen auto parts, the number of stolen cars should be dramatically reduced, it is predicted.

The Biden-Percy legislation would also impose penalties for altering identification numbers, tighten automobile titling laws, and make exporting of stolen autos with altered VINs a federal crime, strengthening existing statutes.

The secretary of transportation would be authorized to issue new locking standards designed to thwart amateur thieves, such as through the use of computer devices.

The bill would also include provisions for:

- Permitting professional "chop shop" operators to be fined $25,000 or imprisoned 10 years, or both.
- Making it a federal offense punishable by a $5,000 fine or five-years imprisonment, or both, to alter any VIN.

—Amending the National Stolen Property Act to include vehicle titles, so as to discourage fraudulent use of titles.

—Expanding the RICO statute to cover "chop shop" operations. Those individuals who traffic in stolen vehicles and their parts could have their businesses seized by federal authorities, and forfeited.

Prohibiting the sale or advertisement of devices used to break into automobiles.

Permitting the U.S. Customs Service to arrest individuals attempting to export a stolen auto. Under this bill, exportation of a stolen auto with an altered VIN would subject the violator to a $5,000 fine.

—Directing the U.S. attorney general to conduct a comprehensive study of the growing threat of agricultural and construction equipment.

'Darrow' to speak

In a one-man show at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Oct. 25, Calvin Pritner will attempt to bring to life Irving Stone's "Clarence Darrow for the Defense."

Sponsored by the department of theater and dance, Pritner's performance is scheduled for 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater. Currently serving as chairman of the department of theater at Illinois State University, Pritner has been an actor and director for more than 20 years. Before accepting the position at ISU, he was an instructor in the SIUE department of theater and dance.

He has played a variety of roles, ranging from Felix Unger in "The Odd Couple," to George in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" He appeared in the featured role of Marcus Herron on the NBC mini-series, "The Awakening Land," starring Elizabeth Montgomery and Hal Holbrook.

"Clarence Darrow for the Defense" is an independent venture for Pritner.

"As an actor, he wished to gain experience and insight into the art of acting by playing a single role on tour for an extended length of time," William Vilhauer, chairman of the department of theater and dance, said. "The show is on a four-year tour of the Midwest."

Like Holbrook, who portrays Mark Twain in the same type of performance, Pritner includes the audience in his portrayal of Clarence Darrow.

As Darrow, he directly discusses his life, inserting anecdotes and special memories along the way. There also are reenactments of court battles as he defends Eugene Debs, the McNamara brothers, the Scopes monkey trial, Leopold and Loeb, and others. John T. Scopes was the educator who dared to teach evolution in a Tennessee school.

In his role as Darrow, Pritner champions the rights of the common man, and the right to a decent life and a decent wage. "He was Midwestern by birth, and Darrow's story is also the history of Chicago and Illinois at the turn of the century," Vilhauer said.

As he strolls about the stage in his rumpled suit, doing his autobiographical revelation, pausing to occasionally question an imaginary witness or talk with his first wife, Pritner taps a rich load of history. Chicago events come alive as he discusses the Haymarket riots, the Pullman strike, and conditions under which miners worked.

"What emerges is not only the man, Darrow, but one by one the taproots of liberalism as they took hold in this country," Vilhauer believes.

The actor's portrayal of the famous lawyer has been called by critics "forceful, appealing, somehow 'pathetic' and 'resoundingly human'." According to one theater critic, "he provides the snappy wit and hard-hitting logic that Darrow's."

Another said, "His timing is

faultless and there is a rock-hard sincerity to his performance."

LEAVE STOLEN CARD

An employee of Charlie's Restaurant reported at 5 p.m. Monday a party of eight people had dinner and cocktails the previous night in the restaurant and left while the waiter was checking the authenticity of a credit card, offered to pay a $257 bill. The credit card was listed as stolen, the employee said.

Trailrider family wins 3 top awards

Excellent weather this week produced a fine turnout of competitors and mounts for a "Fun Show" at the arena. Among the double winners collecting two first place awards were Mrs. Ginger Bowman and her son, Mike, and daughter, Janella.

Janella mounted on Charlie won the pony poles and pony barrel events and Mike Bowman on Little Buddy took first places in junior poles and junior barrel races.

Also winning two events were Don James Jr. on Jessie, open flag and junior plug race; Kathy Smith showing King's Lee Tar in haltering (goldings) and riding the same mount in the ladies western pleasure event; and Kim Schneidewind riding Tennessee Buck in the ladies gaited country pleasure and showing Holly in the junior bareback pleasure events.

GC man charged

Responding to a call that a disturbance was occurring at 2821 Edwards St., officers were told by Hattie Robinson that address she had been beaten about the face by Ferdinand J. Schmidt, 2001 Edison Ave.

Police said Mrs. Robinson had blood on her face and mouth.

Schmidt, 55, who could not be aroused from the floor, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he had sutures taken for a cut to the middle finger of his right hand, police said.

After treatment, Schmidt was taken to police headquarters and charged with disorderly conduct.

Economics, patient care eyed by 286 hospitals in Illinois

More than 1,000 health care professionals throughout Illinois are attending the 56th annual meeting of the Illinois Hospital Association in Chicago this week. Representing nearly 300 hospitals, the IHA is in session through tomorrow at the Hyatt Regency Chicago Hotel.

The 1978 meeting theme, "But What About Tomorrow?", is intended to aid hospital executives, trustees, medical staffs, auxiliaries and other professionals to prepare for the years ahead by examining the future of health economics and all aspects of hospital management and patient care.

Featured speakers include Virginia Knauer, former White House special assistant for consumer affairs and former director of the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs, and Cong. John B. Anderson, (R-Ill. 16th District), Rockford.

Also, W. Daniel Barker, chairman-elect, American Hospital Association board of trustees and administrator of Crawford W. Long Memorial Hospital, Emory University, Atlanta; Leland R. Kaiser, Ph.D., associate professor and head, Division of Health and Administration, University of Colorado School of Medicine; Marc Roberts, Ph.D., director, professor of political economy and health policy, Harvard University School of Public Health; and William E. Young Jr., corporate vice-president, Hospital Affiliates International, Nashville.

Topics being aired during the educational seminars include new life styles that are increasing the demand for and the use of health care systems; what hospitals can do to meet the challenge of surviving in a modern age; hospital cost containment programs, and how consumerism is changing health care.

"We are living in a period in which we are witnessing a continuing upward spiral of inflationary trends which affects all areas of the economy," Robert W. O'Leary, IHA president, said yesterday.

"Coupled with this, expensive technological health care advances, plus greater public awareness of and utilization of health care services, add to overall costs.

Government involvement in health planning, financing and regulation is also on the increase.

"These factors are keeping health care management busy, alert, aware and active in developing alternatives to meet health care needs of people in their respective communities, while attempting to maintain high quality care within strict budgetary limits.

"This, then, is the issue before us...to improve the health status of the people our hospitals serve, and at a cost within the reach of all."

"It is through meetings such as this that we can review the current state-of-the-art in our health care industry while learning how to better organize IHA activities to achieve optimum benefits."

The Illinois population of 11,113,976, there are 286 hospitals, or one per 38,860 population.

Illinois hospital beds total 76,135.

Patients admitted number 2,084,274 and emergency visits total 3,961,817, with outpatient visits aggregating 12,998,958.

Hospital employees number 185,497; the payroll is $2,077,308,000 and hospital expenses amount to $3,824,107,000 in Illinois.

Two face weapons charge

A man and a woman were taken into custody at 2:40 p.m. Monday, after police said they received a report that both were in possession of weapons and had said they were detectives.

Charged on state counts of unlawful use of a weapon were Sidney S. Shedd, 25, of 2963 Buxton Ave., and Janet S. Lloyd, 29, who gave an address in the 2906 block of Buxton, after their vehicle was stopped in the 2500 block of Nameoki Road.

A Smith and Wesson .357 magnum and a billy club allegedly were found under the driver's seat and a 38 caliber weapon beneath the front passenger seat.

The arrests climaxed an incident occurring a short time earlier when a woman residing at the Kirkpatrick Homes reportedly was driving on Nameoki Road when two people in an auto kept honking the horn at her and pointing to the rear of her vehicle.

The woman pulled into the service station at Nameoki and Washington Avenue and the man in the other car told her the right rear wheel was wobbling.

The woman recognized the man and agreed to be taken home by the pair in the second car, leaving her vehicle at the service station.

Arriving home, the woman explained the situation to her husband, who said the spare tire, mounted on a bent wheel, had been placed on the car when he'd had a flat earlier.

Meanwhile, the man and wife alleged Shedd went out to his car and came back inside with a gun, sticking the weapon in his belt.

Miss Lloyd was wearing a gun in a holster and both allegedly said they were detectives, the couple reported.

Shedd and Miss Lloyd offered to drive the wife back to her car then follow her home again.

While his wife was being taken back to the service station to retrieve her car, the husband became suspicious of their story and notified police who arrested Shedd and Miss Lloyd.

MR. AND MRS. MITCHELL A. BLUM. They were united in marriage in an evening ceremony at the Nameoki United Methodist Church. Formerly Kimberly Faye VerBryck, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace VerBryck, 2316 Gary Ave.

Kimberly VerBryck and Mitchell Blum are wed

Miss Kimberly Faye VerBryck and Mitchell Alan Blum exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony on July 29, at the Nameoki United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Dr. Max Martin officiated at the 7 o'clock evening ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace VerBryck, 2316 Gary Ave. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Blum, 2417 Glen Place.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length white cotton organza gown fashioned with an oval neckline traced with cameo netting, and elbow length puff sleeves.

The slightly gathered skirt fell softly from a natural waistline and her melody length veil of bridal illusion was secured to a lace headpiece. She carried a bouquet of pink and white flowers, tied with white streamers.

Mrs. Shelley McCormick was matron of honor and the bridesmaids included Sue Lazoroff, Lori Logan, Dawn Pecurka, Lynn Blum and Linda Lowell.

They were attired in off the shoulder peasant style dresses created in a white fabric embellished with a pink floral print. Each attendant held a basket of silk flowers in shades of pink. The flower girl, Heather McCormick, was dressed in a white frock featuring a wide ruffle collar and pink waistband. She also carried a basket of pink flowers.

Garrick McFarland was the ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was Mike Bauman. Groomsman and ushers included David Blum, Wayne Birchler, Tim Stambaugh, Ed Deidrick, Larry McCormick, Larry Johnson and Jerry Birchler.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception given at the Moose Lodge. The rehearsal dinner was hosted at the Barrel Restaurant.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School South. The bride is an employee of Conalco and the groom is working as a supervisor at American Steel Foundries.

They are residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to the Missouri Ozarks.

Parents, teachers here emphasizing family unity

The Granite City Area Council of PTA's opened its 1978-79 year with a pot luck dinner held at Johnson School. The theme chosen for this year is "Family Unity Through PTA."

The following are this year's officers and chairmen:

President, Barbara Haddock of Maryville School; vice-president, Karen Hutchings of Mitchell; recording secretary, Julie Gates of Maryville; corresponding secretary, Virginia Apperson of Johnson.

Treasurer, Max Mills of Nameoki; parent education, Jim Jeffries of Webster; special education co-chairmen, Ed Gonwa and Dave Johnson of Lake; juvenile protection, Don Kopp of Nameoki.

Membership co-chairmen, Allen Orabod and Ellen Steen of Johnson; cultural arts scholarship, Brenda Wilbers of Mitchell; hospitality co-chairmen, Sandy Mueller and Betty Paschke of Mitchell; publicity, Donna Svoboda of Washington.

Legislation, Dorothy Baker of Wilson; school education representative, Art Menendez of Mitchell; School Board representative, Dale Rea; citizens advisory committee delegate, Barbara Haddock of Maryville; and the district director, Phyllis Curries.

Jim Jeffries of Webster extended the Area Council's appreciation to Bill Smithson, president of the Wilson PTA, for his effort in organizing a lead screening program in the district.

Don Kopp, principal of Nameoki, announced that the Area Council will be sponsoring a blood drive during April next year. It will be the second year the Granite City Area Council has participated in the drive.

Also discussed by Kopp was the scoliosis screening program — held in conjunction with the Shriners.

Anyone knowing a child who may have this disorder may contact Don Kopp at Nameoki School or contact any Shriner for further details, it was announced.

There will be an all-out membership drive this year for the Parent-Teacher Association. One of the PTA's objectives is to bring into closer relation the home and the school, enabling parents and teachers to cooperate in the education of the children.

"This can best be accomplished by fuller participation in PTA. There are also state and national awards for local schools which increase their membership," Mrs. Haddock said.

"The awards include 100 percent teacher membership, 100 percent association membership, and 100 percent family membership. Anyone interested in joining PTA may obtain information by calling their local school or contacting membership co-chairmen Alan Orabod or Ellen Steen at Johnson School."

General school policy regarding snow days was discussed by B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools. Full details of the snow schedule will be available at a later date, it was stated.

The next general meeting of the Granite City Area Council of PTA's will be held on Oct. 16 at 7:30 p.m. The location will be Nameoki School, 1620 Pontoon Road, Granite City.

Five Venice women to be honored at tea

Five Venice women will be honored during the week of Oct. 9 to 13 for their work with the University of Illinois Consumer and Homemaking Education Program and the Expanded Foods and Nutrition Program. The announcement was made at the Venice City Council meeting Tuesday in a letter from Carolyn Kerns, extensive adviser.

"We are very proud of the work these ladies are doing," Mayor William Ebersoldt said. "These programs have been in progress for a number of years and have helped a lot of our residents as well as those from Madison and other areas."

The five program assistants to be honored are Eva Davenport, Verna McClelland, Margaretta Wade, Evonne Marr and Lenora Brown.

They will be special guests at a tea to be held in the First Presbyterian Church, East St. Louis, at 3 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 12.

The five women work with low-income homemakers to help them improve their level of living in spite of limited resources.

The mayors of the Quad-Cities are being asked to declare Oct. 9 to 13 as Program Assistants Week here.

Educational Secretaries begin year

New committee chairmen were appointed and a new member was greeted at the Granite City Association of Educational Secretaries meeting Monday night at Granite City High School North. Secretaries at North High served as hostesses for the meeting and served refreshments after the business agenda was concluded.

Norma Roney, association president, announced the appointment of five committee chairmen — Mary Hudson, friendship; Wanda Page, historian; Frieda Andrews, Illinois Association of Educational Secretaries representative; Shirley Brown, membership; and Catherine Wittevrangel, public relations. Judith Ashley was welcomed as a new member.

Information concerning

National Educational Office Personnel Week, Oct. 8 to Oct. 15, was distributed and plans to observe the occasion were discussed. The budget for the 1978-79 business year was introduced and approved by the members. The next meeting was set Wednesday, Oct. 25, at Niedringhaus Grade School with Barbara Dickerson as hostess.

To welcome new members Sunday

World Wide Communion Sunday will be observed this Sunday at the 10:45 a.m. worship service at Nameoki Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Don P. Pierson, pastor, announced today.

The event will be marked by the congregation receiving new members. The pastor's message will be "Failure Not Be Final."

Immediately following the Sunday morning service, junior and senior high youth, who are members of the Carpenter's Fellowship, will enjoy an apple picking picnic, the Rev. Pierson said.

Apples picked by the young people will be available to the congregation Sunday, Oct. 8. Proceeds from the project will help pay expenses for a camp and conference next year.

Special services at Nazarene Church

Dr. Edward Lawlor, retired general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, will lead a series of special services here, starting Tuesday, Oct. 3. The distinguished churchman will speak each evening at 7:30 at the First Church of the Nazarene, 4701 Highway 111, through Saturday, Oct. 7, and at 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 8.

William H. Roddy, pastor of the local church, said music for the services will be provided by Nashville recording artists, Wally and Ginger Laxson.

"The couple has dedicated their many talents to the Lord and are devoting their lives to the ministry of song evangelism," the Rev. Roddy said.

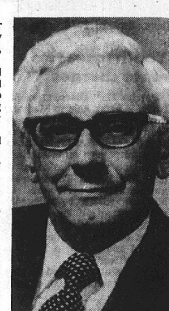

Laxson previously traveled with the Tennessee Quartet, while his wife is a former member of the Speer Family.

Dr. Lawlor served the Church of the Nazarene as general superintendent from 1968 to 1976, retiring at the General Assembly held that year in Dallas, Tex.

Prior to 1968, he had served eight years as executive secretary of the Department of Evangelism for the general church.

From 1946 to 1960, Dr. Lawlor was superintendent of the Canada West District of the denomination, comprising churches in the Canadian provinces of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

He was elected to the district superintendency after several years as pastor of the Calgary (Alberta) First Church, where his evangelistic ministry brought large crowds to the services, the Rev. Roddy said. The local pastor extended an invitation to the public to hear Dr. Lawlor during the six-day special visit.

Nameoki ups road budget

Youth faces two state charges

Patrick M. Wallace, 17, of St. Louis, is being held in Madison County Jail in lieu of $2,000 cash bond on a state charge of aggravated assault and unlawful possession of alcohol. Wallace was arrested at 7 p.m. Monday at Third Street and Madison Avenue in Madison where he allegedly was creating a disturbance. Police said he had open beer in his auto and made threats toward and spit at a Madison police officer. Wallace also refused to give police any information, officers said.

GONK'S DRIVE-IN LIQUOR
IT'S QUICKER!

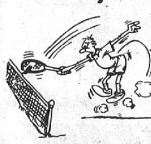

The Nameoki Town Board of Trustees Monday night approved an increase in the township's road and bridge budget of $20,000, to a new total of $170,953. A public hearing on the proposed budget amendments preceded board action at its regular meeting Monday night. The increase will not affect taxes, since the additional funds already are available. The budget increases include $22,000 more for salaries in the maintenance of roads category, increasing that total to $42,000, and $4,000 more for the purchase of machinery, upping that appropriation to $18,400. Supporting the increases will be more than $20,000 the township has appropriated for manpower in the environmental cleanup program, which is financed by federal revenue sharing grant funds. While the $20,000 will not be immediately transferred from the revenue sharing fund to the road and bridge fund, increasing the road budget will give Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic authority to spend that money when it is made available by the town board, under a contract with Mehelic to operate the cleanup program. Another $6,000 was made available from the sale of two old township dump trucks to Fairmont City. The transfer of $4,400 into the purchase of machinery category will enable Mehelic to make final payments to the program and all that remains to be done is the signing of a contract between the county's Community Development Director Mary Kane and the Illinois American Water Co. However, Mrs. Kane submitted a contract to the water firm, which objected to some of the wording and returned a different contract to the county for signing. That contract is under study by Mrs. Kane and the county state's attorney's office, Supervisor Harold Davis reported. Trustee Norman Hessler reported the township's first news bulletin has been distributed to township residents and reports a good response to its contents, which include the names and telephone numbers of township officials, a brief explanation of some township programs and a calendar of scheduled pickups in each precinct under the environmental cleanup program. Trustee W. Lee Adams reported work on installing a larger culvert under Route 162 east of the town hall is about 90 percent completed and Boy Scouts have volunteered to clean up the slough on the north side of the culvert.

Pressing on... Always hit deep to your foe

Somehow, we think we can hit the ball down.

Serves, volleys and groundstrokes are aimed down into the court. The objective some of us demonstrate is to hit the ball as close to the net as possible.

And two tragic things happen: one, the ball stops at the net; two, the ball lands short in the court. Both results put us in big trouble — one obviously, the other immediately.

The strategy in tennis is to hit the ball deep — serve deep, volley deep and hit deep groundstrokes. The idea is to keep the opponent away from the net, so he won't have an angle to run us around. If we send the ball short we have less time to react and more distance to cover.

BUT, because our eyes trick us, we flirt with the net and make avoidable mistakes.

Successful players do not fall prey to this illusion. They use their imagination on the court; they pretend the net is higher so they don't get caught. They aim over the taller net so the ball goes deeper.

Even if they mis-hit the ball, their great margin of error will get the ball over. Tennis is tough enough — don't let your opponent and the net double up on you.

I've been told that it would be easier to teach tennis if I covered the net with a drape so my students couldn't see through it. Think about it. There exists an optical illusion in tennis that adversely affects our play.

Big family will be getting even bigger

DONNIE and his wife DEBBIE are expecting a baby next March. (For all you curious ones — they married in May.)

It had been a well-guarded family secret but during a rehearsal of their television show, Donnie couldn't keep the news to himself any longer.

The Osmond family was counting on Debbie to be a part of the new television season. But in view of the pregnancy, she will now be resting.

ED AMES — The Impossible Dream (RCA) — Ames is a big-voiced, romantic baritone who has been touring the country in "Man of La Mancha" and also has scored successes in "Fiddler on the Roof" and "The Fantasticks." Included on this memorable album are "The Impossible Dream," "Climb Every Mountain," "Bridge Over Troubled Water" and "Blowin' in the Wind."

Water vs. ulcer

You recommended drinking a lot of room temperature water to help an ulcer, but I'm afraid I'll gain weight, Mrs. J.W. Dear Mrs. J.W.: A quart of water daily, in addition to your normal fluid intake, helps dilute the strong digestive juices that tend to irritate an ulcer. Forget about gaining weight. Water cannot cause fat to form. What about serving fruits and vegetables unpeeled? I've often wondered about this. Please comment, Miss P.B. Dear Miss P.B.: It's best to eat the skins of fruits and vegetables. Only those which are inedible should be removed. People need the roughage skins provide.

Beings on other planets sending UFO's, college audience is told

WALGREEN CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs. Sept. 28, 1978 Page 13

Is it possible that human progress is part of a grand experiment being conducted by superior beings from another planet? Author John Wallace Spencer, writer of several books dealing with UFO's (unidentified flying objects) and the "Bermuda Triangle," proposed this theory during a speech at Belleville Area College last week.

Despite the seemingly far-fetched theory, Spencer maintained a devout "show me" attitude concerning the appearance of UFO's and mysterious disappearances in the Atlantic and Gulf regions commonly referred to as the "Bermuda Triangle." Spencer castigated the National Enquirer for an article last year which linked his name to the claim that a ship had been lost in the Triangle from mysterious causes. "The ship had radioed an SOS during a severe storm, and debris was found at the scene," Spencer said. "There was no mystery... it was tragedy." He also related specifics concerning the debris located from the U.S. submarine the Scorpion, and said, "There was no mystery at all concerning the loss of the Scorpion. Great amounts of debris were found." Still, Spencer insisted that some of the best minds in the nation are involved in investigations concerning the appearance of oval-shaped flying objects which, he maintains, fly out of huge, cigar-shaped "space stations" and which are manned. Flying saucers are not manned, he said, but are a part of the exploratory vehicles being used by another form of life to study this planet.

Spencer assured his audience that commercial aviation vacations on the moon "during our lifetime," and jokingly suggested that the first thing that will be built on the moon will be "the golden arch of a McDonald's hamburger stand." He showed the audience several pictures of burned areas in soybean fields, desert land, etc., and said, "If UFO's do not exist, then someone is running around the world burning huge patches in the ground."

According to Spencer's theory, there was interference in the natural evolutionary process by some other life form about 40,000 years ago and, again, about 5,000 years ago when, he said, "four completely different civilizations started up at about the same time."

"How many of you are on the fence?" resulted in a show of 20 or 30 hands. Two or three people in the theater indicated that they feel the whole thing is a farce. Spencer sold all the books in his suitcase, put his slides away, and left his listeners to go out and watch for unusual lights in the sky.

Perhaps, he speculated, if they are lucky, one of them may someday experience an encounter of the "third kind."

AND SAVINGS BANK

Almost every person every day uses money — nickels, dimes, quarters, dollar bills. Obtaining even life's simplest necessities once was far more complicated. The settlers of America used commodities like corn, tobacco, and rum as money. Items were priced according to how much of the basic commodity they would buy; and the value of the basic commodity in the barter system was fixed by colonial legislatures. But the system was cumbersome. Colonial governments began to mint coins and print paper money. The main purpose of America's first banks was to issue currency. Living became less complicated. Today the bank still plays an important role in meeting the public's need for a medium of exchange. But payment has changed again. Today checks are used more than currency. About 90% of all payments now are made by check. Buying and selling is further simplified. We are proud to be a part of a system which continues to make the business of living easier.

Hearing due on EPA suit

A hearing on charges by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency that Granite City has violated sewage effluent standards at the secondary sewage treatment plant has been scheduled here Oct. 19, it was announced this week.

The hearing, based on a complaint that asks a $10,000 penalty and an additional $10,000 for each day the city was in violation, is to be held at 1 p.m. at the city hall.

The suit, details of which were outlined in a Press-Record article two weeks ago, alleges violation of federal pollution standards in discharging effluent into the Mississippi containing excessive amounts of biological oxygen demand (BOD) and iron.

City officials have pointed out that the city never has accepted the secondary sewage plant from the contractor because of differences over malfunctioning equipment which was responsible for exceeding quality standards.

New life for Venice's Lincoln Tech Center

Venice School District 3 has been allotted $230,862 in federal Title VII funds, enabling school officials to resume Title VII pilot programs in the Lincoln Technical Vocational School and the Venice public schools.

Robert Vickers, superintendent of schools, said notice of the allocation was received Monday afternoon from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare at Washington, and commented, "It made a lot of happy people around here."

Although the funding is $60,000 less than $200,000 which the school district had sought for the 1978-79 school year, the funding will permit the recall of 17 teachers and teachers' aides who were not re-employed at the beginning of the school term because it appeared possible at that time that Title VIII funds might be eliminated entirely.

"We are now reviewing the matter to see just where we stand, but these funds will permit us to call back teachers and teachers' aides who were not rehired when school started," Vickers said.

Althea Cross, director of Title VII programs at Venice said the funding will allow the recall of four teachers at Venice School, four at the vocational school and nine teachers' aides.

The Title VII programs will have a total staff of 21 teachers and aides, compared to a staff of 29 during the 1977-78 school year, but all teachers and aides who want to work will have jobs, Mrs. Cross said, noting that the other eight have taken other jobs or had planned to retire this year.

Prior to opening the school term, the Venice district received notice that its request for $74,956 to operate the Title VII basic program had been cut by $45,000.

This means that the additional $60,000 cut in the pilot program allocation will bring to $105,000 the total loss in Title VII funds for the current year, as compared to those of a year ago.

The expenditures for Title VII programs were incorporated in the new 1978-79 school budget of $2,305,679 adopted by the Board of Education Aug. 17.

When it became apparent that action on granting Title VII funds would be delayed — along with possibility they might be eliminated entirely — the school district cut back its Title VII operations and notified teachers involved in the programs that it was possible they would not be rehired this year.

The notice by HEW that the $230,862 grant to Venice had been approved did not explain the circumstances permitting the grant. School officials had been informed that Venice would receive Title VII funds for pilot projects this year in the event that Chicago schools failed to qualify.

Venice had been placed third on a list to receive funds, behind the Meridian District in Mounds, Ill., and the Chicago district. At that time Chicago had been ordered to show cause in a hearing concerning desegregation policies.

Vickers said Tuesday that while the Title VII grant will permit reinstatement of those programs, the Venice School district still faces serious financial problems, among them an anticipated deficit of $624,283 in the budget.

School officials have said that it is probable the district will be required to issue second-year anticipation warrants to get through the current school year. Second year tax warrants, if sold this year, would commit taxes collected in 1980 for repayment of the loans.

Hearing Oct. 2 on adult, vocational education

The state advisory council on Adult, Vocational and Technical Education will hold a public hearing in Belleville on Oct. 2 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Belleville East High School, Building B100 - Auditorium (Intersection of West Boulevard and Illinois Route 101), Belleville.

The council was created by the 1968 amendments to the Vocational Education Act. It is composed of business and labor representatives, educational administrators, teachers, guidance counselors, state agency representatives, students, school board members, and the general public. A majority of the members are non-educators. Members from this area include, Mr. K. Duane Rankin of Venice.

The public hearing will allow individuals and groups an opportunity to voice their opinions concerning planning and delivery of adult, vocational and technical education. The council is interested in knowing the positive aspects of these programs as well as any problems, a spokesman said.

Adult, vocational and technical education programs are offered by public elementary and secondary schools, area vocational centers, community colleges and state universities. Throughout Illinois over $77 million in state and federal funds were distributed to local schools for these programs in the 1977 fiscal year.

Persons testifying will be asked to restrict their remarks to 10 minutes, and the council would like ten copies of the testimony made available to members. Persons testifying will be making their remarks to the council, and there will be no questions asked from the audience.

Anyone wishing to testify may contact William E. Nagel, executive director, State Advisory Council on Adult, Vocational and Technical Education, 575 Lincoln Tower Plaza, 534 South Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62706, phone 217-782-2892.

Madison school board acts in behavior cases

Action was taken on four students involved in various behavior problems at Madison High School during a special four-hour board meeting Tuesday evening.

One student, a sophomore, who was on suspension was expelled as neither the student nor his parents showed up for the hearing.

One student was placed in an alternative education program with Co-ordinated Youth Services and was withdrawn from school at MHS.

One senior and one sophomore students were reinstated on probation at the school.

City job classifications

A job classification schedule outlining the duties and the qualifications of employees in 25 city jobs was adopted by the Granite City Council Tuesday night.

City officials said the new schedule will not affect present jobholders, but will apply to newcomers on the city payroll in the future.

The action approving the schedule was made on a motion by Alderman Paul R. Bonaker of the Seventh Ward, chairman of the council's Finance Committee who said the schedule will provide guidelines in the employment of city workers.

City Clerk Robert Stevens said the new classification program will result in no changes in present job requirements or salaries. A schedule of salaries commensurate to the duties of the job will be applied in future appointments, he said.

The study was done by Roy D. McGee of Granite City, a personnel consultant. City positions included in the schedule include those of the secretary to the mayor, deputy city clerk, secretary to the chief of police, accounts payable clerk, payroll clerk, bookkeeper in the sewer division, accounting clerk in the treasurer's office, cashier and bookkeeper in the city clerk's office.

Also covered by the schedule are the positions of police clerk in the sewer division, secretary to the fire chief, general clerk of the inspection division, general clerk of the ambulance service, secretary at the sewage treatment plant, secretary of the air pollution department, assistant accounts payable clerk, assistant payroll clerk, clerk typists in the police, inspection, ambulance service and city clerk departments, microfilm clerk and mail and file clerk.

Of the 25 positions covered in the schedule, 21 of them require the jobholder to be a high school graduate. One position, that of deputy city clerk, requires a bachelor of science degree in business administration, and three others require two years of college.

Varying experience also is required in each individual case. In all instances typing ability is required, ranging from 40 to 60 words per minute in most clerical posts, to 60 to 80 words per minute for secretaries to department heads.

In presenting the study, McGee told the council:

"Job descriptions, sometimes referred to as position descriptions, serve several purposes, the foremost of which is to provide all of the parties with a written description of the principal recurring duties and responsibilities of the job in a concise manner, as well as the requirements such as education, experience and any special skills which may be needed."

"The object is to describe the content of the principal functions of the job and not the performance of the individual employee, the foremost of which is to provide all of the parties with a written description of the principal recurring duties and responsibilities of the job in a concise manner, as well as the requirements such as education, experience and any special skills which may be needed."

"The written descriptions are also used to provide the basic information for job evaluation as used in the process of comparing jobs for the purpose of determining their position in the various salary grades."

"Many salary jobs are not of a static nature and therefore the descriptions tend to become obsolete if they are not revised as duties change. Additional descriptions must be prepared when new positions are created."

Crackdown on marijuana continuing

Granite City police who have been patrolling Wilson Park near Granite City High School South to stop marijuana sales and smoking, stopped a group of young men at 10:15 a.m. Tuesday and alleged finding marijuana in the clothing of two of the youths.

Phillip Drennan, 17, of 4021 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach, allegedly had marijuana in his left sock and a 16-year-old had marijuana hidden under his trousers, police alleged. They were arrested and the others were ordered to return to school.

Petitions for overpass aid to be given Price in GC ceremony Saturday

A public presentation of petitions urging Cong. Melvin Price (D-23rd) to help Granite City obtain federal grant funds to finance construction of the proposed downtown overpass will be held at the city hall at 11 a.m. Saturday.

The petitions, in circulation for the past month, now contain more than 7,000 names. The petitions were circulated by city officials and employees and by volunteers interested in development of the overpass spanning the railroad tracks on 19th Street between West Granite City and the downtown area.

Cong. Price will be home during the weekend and will receive the petitions in the city hall ceremony. Mayor Paul Schuler who spearheaded a campaign to have Granite City residents call or telegraph Price and U.S. Senators Adlai Stevenson and Charles H. Percy to press the city's request for help in the overpass financing, noted the event will be open to the public. He urged citizens to attend the presentation to impress Cong. Price with the importance of the occasion.

The city has obtained slightly more than $4 million of the needed construction cost but still is short about $3.5 million. Mayor Schuler has noted that "the federal government is about the only way we can turn."

The mayor also has pointed out that $25 million has been earmarked by state and federal officials for construction of seven overpass structures in East St. Louis.

Twenty-two members and three guests, Nora Stallings and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson attended. Prayer was offered by Elmer Gruen and the pledge to the flag was recited in unison.

The next meeting on Oct. 3 will be held at the township hall and all members will lunch with the nutrition group, it was noted.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Bureaucrats apparently are studying Horseshoe Lake State Park to death because they aren't 'sold' on it

"We have found the enemy, and he is us," the late and sadly missed cartoon character Pogo once concluded. The comment comes to mind when considering why the Illinois Department of Conservation doesn't move faster in developing Horseshoe Lake State Park, which was being talked about more than 40 years ago.

Progress obviously has been made, but an element within the Conservation Department clearly isn't "sold" on the lake park project and has been doing its bureaucratic best to achieve almost endless delay — concentrating on soul-searching and "do we really want this?" public seminars, rather than focusing on the completion of site acquisition and development.

Horseshoe Lake State Park continues to have high-level support but also continues to receive bruising treatment in the administrative infighting. This is unfortunate for the public, which is denied full access and use. A solution needs to be found, perhaps through more precise

Park district believes a combination of big swimming pool, 'coastal surfing' could be major attraction here

"Ocean waves," with waves simulating those found at coastal beaches, are proposed in a swimming pool construction project given tentative approval last night by the Granite City Park Board. The pool is regarded as a major attraction for swimmers and surfers, with the possibility of turnouts two or three times as large as those at a traditional public pool.

As seen by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, "The proposed project will replace a deteriorating facility and represent a substantial investment in an established community. The project will have many positive impacts on the quality of life in the community, consistent with SIMAPC policies."

The pool that is proposed represents a unique facility that will be new to the Illinois-Missouri area. The development of the wave-activated pool will be a significant step for the Park District in providing its residents with the latest in outdoor recreation opportunities.

"The use of Lawton (Law and Water Conservation) funds to supplement the of the proposal. Final bond action is planned during October.

It was related that "additional details must be developed prior to calling the election, but the commissioners wish to advise the public of the district's intention with regard to proposed physical facilities and bonds."

Authorized were:

A Wave-Tek swimming pool with bath house, fencing, lighting and parking lot blacktop, $1,282,991.

Tennis courts totaling $77,000 — resurfacing of Wilson Park Tennis Courts 3, 4, 5 and 6 with repair of gates and fencing, $35,000; construction of two new tennis courts, fencing and basketball goals at Worthen Park, $21,000; and West Granite Park, two tennis courts-fencing-basketball goals, $21,000.

Ice rink improvements totaling $61,800 — enclosing of ice rink and heating of spectator area, $26,800; and repainting of the ends of the rink and the inside ceiling of the rink roof, $35,000.

Playground facilities and equipment totaling $60,000 — installation of new playground equipment and fencing for Wilson Park and West Granite Park. Additional costs incidental to the bond issue — $8,200.

Commissioners estimated that a 20-year general obligation bond issue at seven percent interest would require a tax rate of nine and a quarter cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Completion of plans and specifications is anticipated next week. Architects are Hastings and Chimeris of St. Louis. Park Attorney Randall Robertson was authorized to draw up necessary resolutions and ordinances, and to hire the Chapman and Cutler firm of Chicago to provide an opinion on bond issue procedures.

An environmental impact statement on parking improvements expected to be finished next month by Chicago authorities, Park Board President Jake Hinterser said.

Design changes in the 165x135-foot swimming pool's specifications include a drain at the zero depth level, increased deck areas around the pool, more locker

City councilmen get $27,140 'surprise'

Granite City Council members received a "welcome surprise" during their regular council session Tuesday night. In presentation of communications, City Clerk Robert Stevens read the following letter signed by Carl Mathias, service area manager of the Illinois Power Co.:

"I gave you Illinois Power Company's check today for $27,140, with a brief explanation as to the reason for our refunding this amount."

"About two years ago we placed all of our accounts on a computer. At that time we included all pertinent information regarding the billing of municipalities, including the city of Granite City."

"In some manner the computer failed to pick up a discount to which the city is entitled, which caused you to pay more than you should."

"The omission involved in this error is the 10 percent discount you are entitled to under the electric service contract in effect for serving the municipal needs with respect to electricity."

"During this two year period you were overcharged the above stated amount of discount."

A public hearing on a request by Granite City for a $3.5 million federal grant under an Urban Development Action Grant program will be held at the city hall Wednesday, Oct. 4.

The grant is administered by assistant to Mayor Paul Schuler, told the City Council Tuesday night.

Taylor said the hearing will be held in the courtroom on the second floor of the city hall at 7 p.m. in connection with the city's request for permission by the Housing and Urban Development Agency to seek the UDAG grant. HUD must certify the city's eligibility for the funds before an application is filed.

The hearing will permit public input into the program for which the grant is sought.

Taylor said.

The city's application will ask $3 million to be used in construction of the proposed downtown overpass on Nineteenth Street, and an additional $500,000 for a housing program under that phase of the UDAG program that provides grants for reclaiming deteriorated neighborhoods.

Anticipating HUD approval for certification of eligibility, Taylor has proceeded with preparation of application details in preparing the "package" request.

He has said he expects to file the application during November. Notice as to whether the grant is approved or rejected should be received in January 1979.

Three hurt in melee on Ricco's II lot

Three Missouri youths were injured in a disturbance at 1:45 a.m. today in the parking lot of Ricco's II Lounge, 3675 Nameoki Road.

Charles A. Andrews, 19, Ferguson, was struck on the head with a tire tool during a fight involving several persons, police were told.

After that assault, one youth ran to a parked car, turned his head abruptly and drove through a crowd of people at the southwest corner of the tavern, striking two of the people in the crowd and dragging them about 80 feet, witnesses said.

Someone managed to get a Missouri license number from the car and police traced the number to a Ferguson Mo. owner.

Ferguson police were requested to watch for the car and they notified Granite City officers about 45 minutes later that the car had been stopped in the city. The 21-year-old man who was driving the vehicle was held for Granite City officers and a 19-year-old woman with him was released.

Officers planned to bring the 21-year-old to Granite City today to face possible felony charges.

Two Granite City ambulances took the three injured men face to the lounge's parking lot to St. Elizabeth Hospital where all three were admitted.

News notes

The Senate Finance Committee voted yesterday to increase federal individual and business taxes $23 billion next year, compared with a House-passed measure of $16 billion. The committee voted to raise personal exemptions to $1,000.

A strong anti-inflation policy was promised Wednesday by President Jimmy Carter, who voiced concern over recent credit tightening by the Federal Reserve Board.

A bill that would end price controls on newly-found natural gas in 1985 and allow price hikes in the meantime passed the Senate 97-42 Wednesday. It would for the first time put federal controls on gas produced and sold in the same state.

The Hope Clinic on Monday will establish a "pregnancy aid center" in a 30-foot mobile home next to its parking lot, describing the project as a first in the nation.

Mrs. Sharon Sharp, Republican nominee for Illinois secretary of state, will participate in a reception Tuesday, Oct. 3, from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at Montclair Bowling Lanes, 2002 Troy Road, near 158, Edwardsville. The announcement was made today by Mrs. Edna Kohlbrecher, president of Granite City Federation of Republican Women.

The House completed legislative action Tuesday on a new Susan B. Anthony dollar coin, which is expected to be available by next summer.

Season tickets for $5 will be on sale at the GCHS South homecoming game against Cahokia tomorrow night, starting with the opening of the ticket booth at 6:15. The tickets permit attendance at four home games for $5, or $3 less than if $2 tickets are purchased for individual games.

Decision Making workshop Tues.

Determining one's values is critical to making decisions and deciding which values are more important than others can be a difficult task, a spokesman for Church Women United of the Quad Cities said today.

The objective of a workshop, "Decision-Making for Christian Women," will be to help women make such difficult choices and to consider their options in a manner best suited to their personal values, the spokesman for the sponsoring group added.

The workshop will take place Tuesday, Oct. 3, at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 410 N. 1st St., Blvd., from 9:30 a.m. to 2:15 p.m.

All women in the community are invited to attend and may make a reservation by calling 451-9486 or 931-0578.

Those planning to attend are asked to provide a sack lunch. A beverage will be furnished.

Child care will be available, but those with children are required to bring lunch for their youngsters.

The Rev. Arla J. Eston of Compton Heights Christian Church, St. Louis, will be the resource leader for the workshop.

Terminal trains rolling again

Terminal Railroad Association trains were rolling again today and railroad officials said operations were "near normal" this morning.

Approximately 1,700 Terminal workers began returning to their jobs Wednesday after striking under a U.S. District Court Judge Edward P. Phillip at St. Louis granted a preliminary injunction against striking clerks prohibiting them from picketing TRRA.

Railway clerks, who began picketing the Terminal facilities on Sept. 20 in sympathy with striking railway clerks of the Norfolk & Western Railroad, ended their pickets at 2:15 p.m. Wednesday, spokesmen at the Terminal's Madison yards told the Press-Record.

The picketing was conducted by about 300 TRRA clerks, but other Terminal workers refused to cross the picket lines, closing down Terminal operations throughout the area and resulting in some industrial cutbacks. Industrial leaders had predicted serious economic effects from the strike if it continued.

Operations were being resumed this morning in the Terminal's Madison, East St. Louis and St. Louis yards, according to the spokesman who said freight is being moved as fast as there is not as much backlog as you would think.

Meanwhile, the strike of railroad employees was spreading nationwide as negotiations for the Norfolk & Western and the striking Brotherhood of Railway and Airline clerks were meeting in Washington under a 24-hour mandate to reach a settlement in the strike which began July 10.

The deadline for reaching an agreement was set at noon today.

Labor Secretary Ray P. Marshall said that if an agreement is not reached by today's deadline, "We'll take action to start the trains running again."

Within several hours after the negotiations started at noon Wednesday, the union ordered pickets set up at 73 carriers representing every U.S. rail line except the Conrail freight system and several smaller bankrupt lines.

Industry and union officials estimated that picketing on Tuesday affected 43 major lines in two-thirds of the U.S. rail network in 49 states and idled an estimated 330,000 of the nation's half million railroad workers.

Beck of Terminal Railroad employees and resumption of operations relieved area industries of the burden of seeking truck and barge line connections to make shipments. Some industries, also were dependent on Conrail parts shipments during the TRRA shutdown.

Rozycki charged in beating of Coleman

Walter M. Rozycki, 32, of 2216 Madison Ave., a realtor, reported to Granite City police today on warrants alleging battery and reckless conduct.

Rozycki is accused of participating in the beating of Granite City Seventh Ward Alderman Ronald L. Coleman, 44, of 2445 Woodlawn Ave., the night of Aug. 16 as Coleman was leaving Charlie's Restaurant.

A second man who allegedly participated has been notified at his Missouri residence that two warrants are on file for him, and he has agreed to surrender to police here in the near future, officers said.

Both men were taken into custody in the restaurant's parking lot immediately after the incident. An initial charge against them was withdrawn pending additional investigation.

The Madison County state's attorney's office studied the case and recommended that two misdemeanor charges be filed against each of the accused men.

Rozycki appeared today before Associate Judge William Johnson and pleaded innocent to the charges. Bond was set at $5,000 property bond or $500 cash. He then was held pending the posting of bond, authorities said.

Coleman alleged he was leaving the restaurant the night of the beating when one man said, "Hey, Ron... haven't seen you in a long time."

The man extended his hand as if to shake hands, but then called Coleman a name and struck him in the face with a fist, knocking him down, it was asserted.

Coleman alleged that two men then kicked and hit him while he was down. At St. Elizabeth Hospital for cuts to his upper lip and eyebrow, swelling to his face and abrasions to his face, chest and neck.

Deny testimony was deleted

Eve Lynn Moerlein of Granite City was among witnesses at a hearing of the Illinois Joint Legislative Committee on Regional Government Tuesday in Edwardsville.

Mrs. Moerlein accused the committee of censoring the oral and written testimony of Bruce Armstrong of Granite City, who testified earlier in Springfield on an investigation he has conducted indicating a wide-ranging plot by some federal agencies to lead the country into socialism.

Rep. George Hudson (R-Hinsdale) denied charges that Armstrong's testimony had been deleted and asked the committee secretary to meet with Mrs. Moerlein to review the documentation.

Mrs. Moerlein presented a five-page presentation on evidence which indicates the federal government is attempting to destroy local government entities, both through regionalism and through federal financial "gifts" which make local governments dependent upon the federal government.

Alan Richter, executive director of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, also testified before the committee, saying while coordination between governmental units is necessary, he does not feel regional government will come about in his lifetime.

Track conditions

Ray Peterson of the Illinois Commerce Commission will meet with county officials at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the Civil Defense building at Edwardsville to discuss the ICC's inspection of railroad tracks in the county and potential dangers to citizens.

Chouteau Township officials were notified of the meeting at the Chouteau Town Board Trustees' meeting Monday night and were invited to attend.

SOUTH HIGH POM PON SQUAD, the first group to represent South High School, will perform at half time at Friday night's homecoming football game under the direction of Miss Bonnie Luebert. Members include: Teresa Stanton, Janet Fox, Desiree Gargac, Susan Kafka, Anna Stambaugh, Jeannine Svoboda, Theresa Thompson, Debbie Pule, Robin McBe, Myr Koeper, Cindy Bueite, Susan McRaven, Cathy Morron, Loretta Heagy, Lisa Perjak, Mary Mitchell, Sandra Paster, Paul Sharp, Twyla Lathrop, Sandy Lathrop, Anna Miller, Anita Wieschman, Tammy Barnes, Tracey Boker, Wendy McIlvoy, Carol Shevick, Diane Bason and Debbie Arne.

GC'S Mike Doneff has caught the eye of Illinois State's coach

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor

Of The Press-Record
BLOOMINGTON, ILL. — For Granite Cityan Mike Doneff, it's been somewhat of a frustrating first three games if the 1978 college football season.

Doneff, a junior from Granite City High School North, is the starting fullback for the Illinois State University Redbird football team. But it's not all that simple, according to ISU head coach Charlie Crowder.

I knew he'd be our fullback.

"Mike has had to work very hard for this starting berth, said Crowder in a telephone interview. "He's had quite a few nagging injuries his first two years here."

"I wasn't here for his freshman year, but last year, he showed quite a bit of promise, but got rucked up with a shoulder injury. That seems to have been the story of his football career at ISU."

Doneff started his freshman year off with a bang at Illinois State. He gained over 100 yards in two games and caught the eyes of the coaching staff. However, that staff wasn't the same staff which was at Illinois State the next school year. Head coach Gerry Hart stepped down after a 5-6 season and a 25-27-1 career mark with the Redbirds. Enter Crowder.

"I felt from the first time I saw him that Mike was an excellent back," said Crowder. "He's got the size (6-0, 197 pounds) and the tools to be a tremendous back."

"That is, if we can keep him healthy."

AFTER RECOVERING from his injuries of a year ago, Doneff truly caught Crowder's and the rest of the ISU coaches attention in spurring workouts.

"He had a fantastic spring," said Crowder. "He looked very strong at fullback, and that was with some pretty tough competition, too."

Doneff's successful spring was climaxed by a good performance in the annual Red-White intra-squad game. In that game, Doneff was the leading rusher with 35 carries for 181 yards. He was voted as the Most Valuable Player in the contest.

Now that's how to catch the coach's eye. "I KNEW then that Mike would be our starting fullback, if he could stay healthy," said Crowder. "But that was the real question."

Along with Doneff, Crowder has several outstanding backs with which to work. The fullback providing Doneff with the most competition for the starting position is senior Angelo Jackson from Tuscon, Arizona. "Angelo is a quick back," said Crowder. "But he doesn't possess the power that Mike has."

One of the other fullbacks is an old friend of Doneff's. Bruce Jateff from Granite City North. The 6-1, 205 pound sophomore has shown great potential according to Crowder.

"Bruce is moving along well," he said. "Right now, I'd say his best shot would be at defensive end, but he also has some good tools for a running back."

Both teams are searching for their first victory of the young season. ISU is 0-3 after a error-filled 34-3 loss at Kent State last week, while Northern Illinois is 0-2 after a 27-10 defeat at Northeast Louisiana.

I hope Mike can stay healthy.

Illinois State holds a 21-19-9 edge in the series, and won last year 16-7.

Northern Illinois expects to begin reaping dividends soon, however, from the rebuilding program of third-year coach Pat Culpepper.

The Huskies live up to their nickname with a bruising offensive line that has four players at 250 pounds or better, and an aggressive defensive unit led by star linebacker Frank Lewandoski. He had 33 tackles in Northern Illinois' opener against Western Michigan, and that is believed to be a Mid-American Conference record. Northern lost that game 44-30 the week after ISU lost to Western Michigan 27-17. Offensively, Northern is led by fullback Allen Ross, who had 121 yards rushing against Northeast Louisiana, and split end Dave Petzke, who is among the national leaders with 15 pass receptions in two games. Petzke had Northern's touchdown last week with a 28-yard grab.

Jateff has a good shot.

Illinois State's score with Kent State is misleading. It is the offense, not the defense, that is cause for concern in the Redbird camp. Four fumbles and two pass interceptions (plus 122 yards in penalties) helped give Kent State unbeatible field position. The touchdown drives were from 1, 11, 12, 31 and 48 yards out.

GRANITE CITY — There's a big difference between Granite City soccer and the game played elsewhere in this area ... just ask Lebanon coach John Schiette.

He watched yesterday as his team was soundly defeated by Granite City South 7-0.

According to him, the difference between the program here and elsewhere is almost light years. "We're way behind Granite," he said. "Look at me, for instance, I've never played the game ... I'm a book-learner. But I'm not ashamed of that."

The soccer instinct is so good in these kids here. It's almost amazing. Another difference is in numbers. We might have 40 kids out, but in Granite, they've got well over 100," he said. "But I feel we're coming along pretty well for a young team."

Schiette's young team played most of the game in the end of the field. So much so, in fact, that the Greyhounds managed just four shots on goalie Alex Pax, as compared to South's 27 shots on Lebanon goalie Henry Jackson.

"Their finesse got us today," said Schiette. "I think we were probably got faster overall speed, but the shorter field here hurt us in that respect." South coach Gene Baker praised Lebanon's program ...

and the progress of soccer overall in this area. "I think the game's coming along at a fast pace," he said. "For instance, a few years ago, there were some exciting games, but a lot of the goals were sloppy. Now the goals are getting prettier."

"That shows teams are getting smarter when it comes to strategy of the game."

BAKER'S OWN team wasted no time in getting on the scoreboard. At the 13:24 mark of the first quarter, Frank Schwartzkopf took a pass from Fred Schuler and fired home a goal to make it 1-0.

With play centered mainly in Lebanon's end of the field, it still took most of the rest of the period before the Warriors scored again. They did with 5:07 remaining when Jack Burnett took a long pass from David Fernandez and fired home a goal to make it 2-0.

Fred Schuler rounded out the first quarter scoring with a 35-foot goal with 4:27 remaining. "We're getting a lot of balance this season," said Baker. "I'm very satisfied with that aspect of our game."

"IF ONE player has an off-day, there'll be somebody else there to take up the slack. That's a luxury we haven't always had here."

South scored two more times in the second quarter, but it could have been three.

At the 12:34 mark, John Pazma scored an unassisted goal which was disallowed because South's Jeff Tinsley was in the goal area just ahead of the shot.

Schuler scored his second goal of the game at the 5:40 mark when he took a head ball right in front of the goal, gained control of it on the ground and fired it past Jackson into the lower right-hand corner of the net.

Dan Long took a pass from Fernandez at the 3:24 mark and scored to make the score 5-0 at halftime.

In the third quarter, South scored twice. At the 5:31 mark, Tinsley made up for his earlier mistake by scoring on a long shot and at 5:45, Long took a pass from Tinsley and scored his second goal.

BAKER SAID his strategy was to get Lebanon down early and gain control of the game in the first quarter. "They've got a good speed and have a reputation for being somewhat physical," said Baker.

"They're loaded with athletic talent, that's obvious by looking at them and by what they did at North (fall 9-2 in overtime)." "They were physical out there, but they were clean. I think John (Schiette) has done a good job with them over there."

Baker said he was surprised with some of the skills exhibited by Lebanon. "They have some guys on their team who are good players," he said. "Brooks (Sehby) is a talented player."

SCHETTE SAID he has never seen a defense like South's. "I've never seen four fullbacks who can touch the ball as well as South's did today," he said. "I don't think they had a single missed ball all day. That just shows what playing soccer all your life can do for you."

Baker said his plan was to spread the offense out and be patient with the ball, thus have fewer missed balls. "We tried to keep the ball on the ground as much as we could," he said. "Trying to support pass and square pass."

The victory raises South's record to 12-1, while Lebanon falls to 8-4-1.

Cougars host UMSL

EDWARDSVILLE — After their invasion of Kansas City, Mo., and Atchison, Kan., over the past weekend, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer Cougars will play nine scheduled games at home.

First of the eight game slate at Cougar Field will be next Sunday's always crucial contest with the University of Missouri-St. Louis Rivermen of Coach Don Dallas. Last year, the Rivermen stunned the Cougars with a 1-0 setback, the first time in the long series that UMSL had ever defeated SIUE.

Coach Bob Guelker has added an extra attraction to his home games this year. He has made arrangements for six area high school varsity soccer teams to play preliminary games prior to the Cougars' contests.

For example, the Granite City High School South Warriors will play the Junior Bulls of St. Louis University High in a curtain raiser to the Cougars' battle with UMSL. Kickoff for the prep games will be 11:30 a.m., with a 1:30 p.m. starting time for the SIUE contests.

The other two prep prelines will pit Collinsville High against Alton High, Saturday, Oct. 14, before the Cougars' game with the University of Akron Zips, and then Saturday, Oct. 21, another Granite City powerhouse — Coach Bob Kehoe's North Hill Steelers — will battle it out with Quincy High prior to SIUE's game with a national power, the Quincy College Hawks.

Coach Guelker, commenting on the prep school curtain raisers, said: "We are very happy to have these fine high school soccer teams on our programs. We believe these games will help promote the

Tickets to all Cougar games are: $2 per adults, $1 for high school students, and free to all SIUE students with identification cards.

Guelker also explained how the various participating high schools could profit financially in their games prior to the Cougars' contests.

"In order to help the various schools' soccer programs financially, we are going to provide them with advance tickets for sale to the public, and for every ticket they sell, they'll be able to retain half. They'll make $1 for each adult ticket sold and 50 cents for each student."

The SIUE soccer field is located on Bluff Road at the southern end of the 2,600-acre campus, with ample parking. Cougar Field is recognized as one of the best soccer fields in the United States and seats 5,000 fans. An electronic scoreboard helps keep fans up to date on the progress of the games.

St. Louis fans can easily reach the field via either Interstate 70 or 270, connecting with Illinois Route 157.

After the UMSL-SIUE game Oct. 1st, the Cougars will host the annual Illinois Governor's Cup Tournament, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 6 and 7.

In the first game Friday, Oct. 6, kickoff time 1 p.m., Western Illinois U. opposes the Panthers of Eastern Illinois U. In the second contest, the Cougars will take on Northern Illinois U., at 3 p.m.

Saturday's schedule for the Governor's Cup will pit the two losers against each other at 1 p.m., and the first-day winners will meet at 3 p.m. for the championship.

HARRY BRIGGS
According to this week's Press-Record "Guest-Guessers," Granite City South's Warriors will have a successful homecoming.

This week's guessers are Damian "Catfish" Caffrey and Harry Briggs Jr., both of Granite City. Caffrey is a supervisor at Granite City Steel where he has worked (in 30 years) and Briggs is in his first year as principal of Niedringhaus Grade School in Granite City, after serving several years as a teacher at Nameoki Grade School.

Caffrey, a well-known Granite Cityan among local sports buffs, has been a football fan and/or player for more years than he sometimes likes to admit. He graduated from Granite City High School in 1940 after playing football for coach Byron Bozarth. He was a 156-pound tackle. "We didn't win a whole lot of games in 1939," said Caffrey, "but we sure did have an awful lot of fun."

Caffrey's recollections of his senior-year grid campaign center around the race in the Southwestern Conference, of which Granite City was a charter member.

"The race that year was between East St. Louis and Belleville," said Caffrey. "East St. Louis was so fast, they'd take one or two steps and be at full speed. But Belleville had a lot of size. They had a guy they called 'Stonewall' Jackson."

that's all I remember, just 'Stonewall.' And was he ever huge!" Caffrey isn't exactly sure how he got his nickname.

"I got it back when I was a kid hanging out at the YMCA (that was where people hung out in those days, apparently)," he said. "I don't even know who gave it to me. But that's what I'm known as, just plain 'Catfish.'"

Both of this week's prognosticators feel that Granite City South will bounce back from its loss last week at the hands of Belleville East to defeat Cahokia in the South homecoming game. "There's no doubt that South will be fired up," said Caf-frey. "It's their homecoming and I think they're coming along pretty well and playing better ball each week."

Briggs concurs, saying, "They played a pretty close game last week against Belleville East, in spite of the final score. It was really a two or three-play game. If they can do that well against East, they SHOULD be able to beat Cahokia."

AS FOR Granite City North's chances against Roxana, our guessers are divided. "The law of averages is in North's favor," said Caffrey. "You know how high school kids are, and I think they're due. I think those Granite City kids

Steelers defeat Warriors for Granite City golf championship

GRANITE CITY — The Steeler golf team from Granite City North overcame a slow start here Tuesday to win the city title over Granite City South in a meet played at Arlington golf club.

North finished with a total of 159 strokes compared to South's 164 total.

Herman "Dutch" Schroeder of Granite City South was the individual meet medalist with a total of 38. However, he was the only member of the Warrior squad to score below 40. That turned out to be the difference in the meet North's overall depth proved to be too much.

The next-lowest scores for South after Schroeder's 38 were a pair of 43's ... still higher than the highest North score.

Individually, North's scores were: Scott Robertson and Rob Fyalka with a 39 each, Russ Chappell with a 40 and Paul Eads a 41.

For Granite City South, Schroeder's 38, Greg Mulach and Todd Burns each carded a 43 and Jol King had a score of 44.

Rose running for the Olympics

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
For The Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — For Granite Cityan Rick Rose, the work's just beginning when he gets home from school.
Rose, 26, is the world record holder for the 100-mile run and is training for the 1980 Olympics something he feels he has a good shot at making.

Rose recently ran a marathon (31 miles) through the streets of Granite City for the American Cancer Society. He does it every year.
"There were a lot of people who helped me out. It was as much their doing as mine. I had the easy part," laughed Rose. "I owe them a lot, because this cancer run means a lot to me."

"The Hanlons put on T-shirts and collected quite a bit of money from the local taverns," said Rose. "In addition, early in the morning of the day of the run, some of the helpers hadn't arrived yet, so they helped out a little extra."

Steelers seek first victory; South in homecoming tomorrow

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South will fight for its second victory of the season here tomorrow (Friday) night, while North travels to Roxana to seek its first win against the tough Shells.

South fell last week to have a lot of pride."

Prize of not, Briggs doesn't feel North can beat Roxana.

"I've seen Roxana," he said, "and they're awfully good. They have good speed and are strong. I just can't see North beating them, much as I hate to say it."

SATURDAY, Madison travels to Columbia, and both Caffrey and Briggs think the Trojans will come home a winner. "I've also seen 'Columbia,'" said Briggs. "I feel confident that Madison won't have much trouble with them, even with all of the Trojans' injuries."

On the college scene, Briggs and Caffrey disagree on one game, the Illinois-Syracuse contest Saturday in Syracuse. "You can't keep Illinois down forever," said Caffrey. "Heck, if they'd use Schooley (Tom from Granite City), more often they probably wouldn't be 0-3 now."

Briggs feels that Illinois coach Gary Moeller may be on the ropes, if he doesn't turn things around. "I hate to see things go this way," he said. "But Illinois hasn't got any offense at all. They're really hurting at quarterback."

SOMEWHAT of a surprise may be the fact that both of our predictors think that the Big Red will come through Sunday in Miami against the Dolphins, a team that handed them a 52-14 thrashing last Thanksgiving on national television.

"They (St. Louis) looked great last week against Dallas," said Caffrey. "There's no doubt in my mind that they'll beat Miami. They didn't make any mistakes against Dallas, and that's really unusual for a Cardinal team as of late."

Briggs feels that the improved Big Red offense along with the fact that Miami is hurting (Bob Greise's out of the lineup) will result in a Cardinal victory. "They (Miami) are coming off a loss to Philadelphia," he said. "That along with their injury situation makes things look pretty good for St. Louis."

LAST WEEK: Neither of last week's Guessers had a particularly outstanding one, but Jim Jeffries came out on top with a record of 4-2. His "fellow prognosticator, Jim Whaley, wound up below .500 with a 3-4 mark.

Donoff

(marist) had an outstanding effort with a pair of tackles for loss yardage and a fumble recovery. "He makes things happen," ISU coach Charlie Cowdrey said. Linebacker Vic Friederich of Metamora had 10 tackles, while Fahey, linebacker Tim Mayher of Chicago (Mt. Carmel) and free safety Bruce Kelsay of Village Park (Willowbrook) each had nine.

Illinois State's slender point production continues to be led by freshman place kicker Isaac Camargo of Hialeah, Fla. He kicked his fourth field goal in as many tries, and has 14 of ISU's 26 points.

THE FRUSTRATING part for Donoff is that he hasn't had that great of a season thus far. His carries in three games have netted him less than 100 yards total. But that's not all. His team's record is 0-3.

Belleville East on the road, while North was losing to Wood River 24-7.

North will try and make up for two crucial mistakes it made against Wood River. Both occurred in the Steelers' kicking game. According to North mentor Tom Wyrostek, it's his responsibility to keep the team from making those mistakes.

"OH, SURE. I know I can't go out there and do it for them," said Wyrostek. "But it's the coaching staff's duty to the kids to try and figure out what and why about those mistakes."

"It's our responsibility to point them out and tell the guys why they made them."

collected over $1,000 for the Cancer Fund. "THEY WORKED their tails off," said Rose. "And it's for a good cause. I don't know how they did it. They just got soaking wet."

What's next for Rose? "I'm going to the New York Marathon next month," he said. "That should let me know where I stand compared to other runners who'll be at the Olympic Trials."

North wasn't terribly out-gained, despite the lopsided appearance of the final score. They were only outgained 138 to 126 total yards.

ROXANA, meanwhile is coming off a 25-0 victory over Alton Marquette last week. In that game, the Shells completely dominated play.

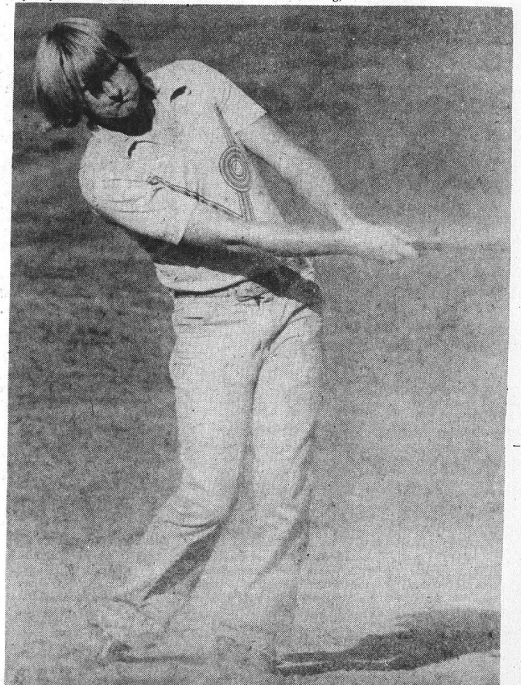

The leading rusher for Roxana last week was Dave McClintock with 54 yards in 12 carries. McClintock scored a four-yard touchdown. Jeff Vinyard scored from two yards out, Jerry Allen had a nine-yard run and Greg Crews had a three-yard run.

IN SOUTH's homecoming, the Warriors will be looking to do something North couldn't... defeat Cahokia. The Comanches downed the Steelers in the first game of the season, 12-0.

South is coming off a heartening performance against strong Belleville East. Although they lost 28-8, the Warriors weren't badly out-played... in fact, it could have been a two or three play game.

Cahokia, meanwhile, lost a 27-18 decision to Alton last week. The Comanches made a run at the Red Birds in the second quarter, and scored a touchdown in the final stanza, but Alton was too much for Cahokia and gave them their first loss of the season.

SOUTH'S Zimmerman hits a shot out of the trap here Tuesday afternoon in the Warriors' golfer's loss to cross-town rival North at Arlington Golf Club. (Press-Record Photo)

Trojans hope to 'get well' at Columbia

MADISON — Madison coach Nick Jakich is hoping to coach his Trojans banded together with enough bandages, wire, and whatever else it takes. Coming out of the first three games of the season with a 1-2 record isn't all it cracked up to be.

"We're hurting," said Jakich. "I feel we can come through this week, but I also hope we don't get any more injuries. Last week, in the Trojans' 19-6 loss to Bushnell-Prairie City, Madison quarterback Carlym Jackson received a broken finger in his passing hand and a broken bone in his right foot.

Running back Earnest Davenport missed the B-PC game because of an injury he got the previous week at Clayton, Mo., cornerback Clint Sensibaugh received a dislocated shoulder against B-PC and all-state running back James Heard is out for several weeks because of a dislocated shoulder he received last school year in a basketball game.

The Trojans head for Columbia Saturday and a game with the Eagles at 1 p.m. Last season, the Trojans handed the Eagles a loss at Madison.

"I think we can do it again," said Jakich. "Davenport should be back for this one and will probably see action at quarterback. I don't know exactly how long Jackson's out for, but it looks like it could be about four weeks or so."

That could mean the rest of the season for the Trojans.

"I'm pleased with the way we're playing as a unit," said Jakich, "but I can't figure out how to get them motivated."

"Sometimes they're way up for a game, and sometimes they're not... there's just no way of telling."

PHIL BELJANSKI of South sizes things up as he controls the ball against Lebanon. The Warriors defeated the Greyhounds 7-0 making their record 12-1. Lebanon's record is 8-4-1.

ENERGY SAVINGS CO. opens with a reception for local officials and dignitaries Tuesday. The company distributes wood-burning attachments for furnaces which the firm says can save homeowners hundreds of dollars in heating bills each year. First freeze Oct. 25?; here are pre-frost tasks

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Gardening Adviser

October should be a month to enjoy the fruits of your labors and the "Indian summer" weather.

It's a nice time to do any physical activity associated with gardening. And it's a good time to evaluate the 1978 garden and make plans for next year.

Here are a few suggestions on what to do and what to look for:

- Dig sweet potatoes since there isn't much growth to be gained by leaving them in the ground any longer. Dry soil will make the job easier.
- Keep crops such as tomatoes, peppers, squash, beans, etc. growing until frost by killing pests as needed.
- Clean up the garden as crops are harvested and add the vegetative materials to the compost pile.
- Collect a soil sample for testing. The results of a soil test should be returned to you within a month and soil treatments can then be made this fall.
- Pumpkins and squash should be picked when mature. Leave the stem attached and store in a cool, dry room.
- Raspberries' foliage should be green and healthy. If your planting appears otherwise, resolve to follow a spray program for disease control next spring.

- Grape vines should also have green foliage at this time. Dry or dead leaves indicate a droughty site, low fertility, or disease infection. A good spray program during the summer will keep the foliage healthy and give better yields of good fruit.
- Winter apples can be picked and stored. The best storage is a refrigerator, but any cool storage with high relative humidity is good. Fruits may be wrapped in newspapers, but placing in a plastic or poly bag in refrigerated storage works best.
- Harvest nuts. They should be collected, cleaned, and dried, and then stored in a cool room. If used for seed, the nuts may be planted in the ground this fall or else stored in moist sand or peat at cold temperatures over winter.
- Watch for mouse activity in fruit plantings and storage areas. If runways or chewing is seen, trap or poison them. If poisons are used, make protected feeding stations from tin cans or other devices that are not attractive to children or pets.
- Enjoy the fall color of blueberry and blackberry foliage. Study the possibility of blueberries as a dual purpose crop in the landscape plan.

- Dig up and pot a plant of parsley, thyme, rosemary, and other herbs for indoor growing.
- Be prepared to protect frost-sensitive crops on frosty nights. The average first freeze for west-southwest Illinois is Oct. 25.

Nine additional centers for voter registration

Nine special voter registration centers will be conducted in the Quad-City area before the Oct. 10 deadline for registering to vote in the Nov. 7 general elections. Qualified voters are those persons who are citizens of the United States who live in the state 30 days and in their precinct for 30 days.

Voters who have moved since they last voted may send their pink registration cards to the county clerk's office at Edwardsville where their records will be corrected and a new voters registration card mailed to them.

Registration centers remaining to be held in this area include:

Attends state convention

Mrs. Anita Eftimoff, chairman of the Madison County unit of the Illinois Women's Political Caucus, attended the state convention of the organization in Springfield during the weekend. Mrs. Eftimoff is a member of the state governing board.

Highlighting the convention were four workshops: Lobbying Effectively at the Local and State Level; Recent Trends in Political Participation of American Women; Monitoring Your Schools for Sex Equality; and Springfield behind Closed Doors. Panelists included Rep. Susan Catania (R-Chicago); Kristina Johnson, women's advocate for the House of Representatives; Gloria Cravens, lobbyist for the League of Women Voters; Dr. Judith Eversen of Sangamon State University; and several women lobbyists and educators.

Keynote speaker at the Saturday luncheon was June Sochen, author of the book: Her Story: A Woman's View of American History. More than 200 delegates from local caucuses throughout Illinois attended the convention.

Groshong promoted

Airman Groshong, a security specialist, is assigned at Dyess Air Force Base, Tex., with a unit of the Strategic Air Command. The airman is a 1977 graduate of Granite City High School South. Dream disco on Friday

The American Dream Disco Co., a traveling disco road show featuring Steve "C" Hill and Karen "KC" Cass, will headline an evening of dance at SIUE at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

In one of their few appearances in the area, the Atlantans will set up a mobile disco in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center, complete with a sound system, lighting and music for hours of disco, plus party games and a "light on your feet" dance contest.

Dances such as the Latin and Touch Hustles and the King Tut Strut will be taught by the professional dancers. Wigs, oversized sunglasses, mustaches and other props are used in the act.

"We have to compensate for not being a six-piece band," Hill said. "We like to get out from behind the stands and make it a real show production, which is another reason we conduct contests and give out prizes."

The American Dream Disco Co. has played colleges and clubs throughout the southern United States. The disco show here is a special event of "Welcome Back Week."

Admission is $2 for SIUE students and $3 for non-students. Tickets will be available in advance at the information desk of the University Center, or at the door.

Trailriders enjoy competition, friendship

Trailriders Saddle Club has for many years provided riders an opportunity, and a facility, to show their horses and to compete in various competitions and riding events.

Club members utilize the arena at the levee on Chouteau Slough just north of Rock Road and west of Route 3, for both point shows and fun shows throughout the season. Shown are some of the sights during Sunday's Fun Show.

Charged with rape

John L. Ishum, 20, of 2223 Fourteenth St., was arrested at 2:45 p.m. Monday on a warrant charging the rape of a 21-year-old Granite City woman in a home invasion incident Aug. 25.

At that time, the victim told police a man came to her door and inquired where another person lived. He then left.

Ishum was taken before a judge Monday and bond was set at $5,000.

A mittimus was issued and Ishum was transferred by Madison County sheriff's deputies to Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

About 15 minutes later, she heard a noise in the living room and, entering from the kitchen, found the same man standing there.

She attempted to fight the man, but he repeatedly slapped her and threatened her with a knife if she was not quiet, she told police.

After the alleged rape, he left by a rear door and ran away. The victim then went outside the home and screamed for help.

A mittimus was issued and Ishum was transferred by Madison County sheriff's deputies to Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

Alter-proof car titles, auto recoveries noted by Dixon

It is no longer fair to consider auto theft an amateur crime of young people, Alan J. Dixon, secretary of state, said Wednesday in Charleston. Auto theft is a growing specialty of organized crime, he told students of government at Eastern Illinois University.

"Vehicle theft has been considered a youth problem because most offenders arrested for it are young," Dixon said. "More than 60,000 persons arrested in 1976 were 17 years old or younger. Juveniles comprised 25.6 percent of all vehicle theft arrests."

"But you can't judge auto thieves merely by those who are caught. The crime actually is being taken over by professional auto thieves who rarely are caught."

"Of about a million vehicle thefts in a year, the number cleared by arrest is only 14 percent. Nobody knows the age — or much else — of the thieves who got away with 86 percent of the vehicle theft crimes," Dixon listed reasons why he believes professional criminals are increasingly active in auto theft:

1. Organized theft rings known to the U.S. Justice Department have increased from 125 to more than 400 since 1971.
2. Recovery of stolen vehicles, measured by monetary value, has dropped from 86 percent in 1967 to 59 percent in 1976.
3. Altered and counterfeit certificates of title are used increasingly to deceive used car buyers.
4. "Chop shops" have proliferated. Since it is easier to steal a car than to produce a good title to it, professionals use the shops to dismantle late-model cars and sell the components at a profit.

Dixon's investigators recovered 621 stolen vehicles, he said.

2. Dixon began issuing a new alter-proof certificate of title June 1. It is printed on bank note paper with a lamination strip over the vital information so it can't be doctored, he explained.

3. Wreckers, rebuilders, recyclers and used parts dealers, licensed by Dixon, are being required to keep better records of vehicles and parts they handle.

"I don't claim that the secretary of state can wipe out auto theft in Illinois," said Dixon. "But we can make it tougher, and we are doing it."

Omelettes make fine dining easy

By JEANNETTE BRANNIN

The omelette is a natural for the single living alone. Supplies are always on hand, easily encased and protected from drying by nature. Eggs blend beautifully with a multitude of other ingredients: Meats, fish, poultry, cheese, vegetables, fruits, sauces and seasonings.

Eggs are a tremendous value in protein. When large eggs, weighing 24 ounces a dozen, sell for 80 cents a dozen, they are only 33 cents a pound. When they sell for 80 cents a dozen, they are only 46 cents a pound.

Eggs also are a tremendous asset for dieters. One side says that eggs contribute to high levels of cholesterol. The other side says eggs are not responsible for high cholesterol.

In his book, "Super-nutrition for Healthy Hearts," Dr. Richard Passwater says, "Eating eggs does not cause high cholesterol. Cholesterol does not cause heart disease. Heart disease causes elevated cholesterol in some elderly people."

Because eggs have been an important part of the diet of the world's humanity from the beginning of recorded time, these fine omelette recipes are offered with a clear conscience.

But first, six simple steps to show how to get an omelette in and out of the pan in less than a minute:

1. Mix 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons water and a dash each of salt and pepper with a fork or whisk until just blended. Or whirl for a few seconds on a blender.

2. Heat 2 tablespoons butter in an 8-inch or 10-inch omelette pan over medium-high heat until butter foams. A drop of water in the pan should sizzle. Pour in egg mixture.
3. The mixture will set at the edges at once. With a pancake turner, carefully fold cooked portions at edges toward center.
4. As cooked portions are being drawn to center, tilt skillet so uncooked eggs can flow to the pan surface. Slide pan rapidly back and forth over heat to keep mixture in motion and sliding freely.
5. While top is still moist and creamy looking, fill the omelette with choice of filling. Slip spatula under one side of omelette and fold it over the filling.
6. Turn omelette out of pan onto a heated plate.

As cooked portions are being drawn to center, tilt skillet so uncooked eggs can flow to the pan surface. Slide pan rapidly back and forth over heat to keep mixture in motion and sliding freely.

College quiz competition

A "college bowl" tournament will be held at SIUE in early November. Lyle Ward, assistant director of the University Center and coordinator of the tournament, is calling on all campus organizations to participate.

"College Bowl is an ever-popular, question-answer game which has returned under the sponsorship of the Association of Colleges Unions-International," he said. "Known as the varsity sport of the mind, it has provided the arena for the fastest minds in school to demonstrate their skills under the fire of varsity competition."

Colleges and universities across the nation are preparing intramural campus tournaments in order to select teams for possible competition in regional, national and world tournaments.

Registration for the SIUE intramurals is Oct. 2-5 with intramural team competitions beginning on campus in early November. College Bowl teams will consist of four members plus one alternate, and the entry fee for each team is $4.

Ward said, "We would like SIUE represented in the regionals and, we hope, the televised national and world tournaments. Therefore, it is essential that we involve as many teams in our own campus tournament as possible."

The University Center is inviting all campus organizations to form one or more teams for local competition. Prizes, trophies and free travel opportunities are available to winners.

All questions in the College Bowl are taken from the 1978 edition of College Bowl Almanac and Yearbook.

Game tax is cut in half

Governor James R. Thompson approved legislation this week to lower the state's bingo tax on gross proceeds of the games from 10 percent to five percent.

The bill, House Bill 3019, was the last of 334 measures approved by the General Assembly this year to be acted upon by the governor.

"This legislation will help veterans' groups, schools, churches and other organizations which promote worthy causes. It will help them to overcome some of their financial problems," Thompson said.

The governor estimated the reduction in the bingo tax will cost the state about $5 million a year in lost revenue, but only $1,250,000 in the present fiscal year because it impacts primarily in the fourth quarter.

He said he would seek to restore the lost revenue through "vigorous implementation of the recommendations of the Governor's Cost Control Task Force."

Effective date of the bingo measure is Jan. 1, 1979.

Thompson approved the legislation at St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Chicago. He said the tax reduction on the bingo game licensed to the St. Thomas Aquinas Conference of St. Vincent De Paul, licensed to operate a game on Mondays, will mean about $5,000 more for that organization.

The number of licensed bingo games in Illinois continues to rise, the governor said.

There are now 1,560 licensed games, 110 more than last year, despite the fact that 30 license holders of last year did not renew their licenses this year.

An inventory was to be taken to determine if other items are missing.

Students need to report changes in their plans

About 870,000 young men and women between 18 and 22 who are returning to their studies as full-time students have one thing in common — they all receive Social Security benefits.

John Nathan, Social Security district manager here, noted this week that such benefits can be paid to unmarried full-time students when one of their parents receives Social Security retirement or disability benefits, or when a parent dies after working long enough under Social Security.

Most of these young men and women received benefits throughout their summer vacation because they planned to return to full-time school attendance this fall, Nathan said. But many of them, for one reason or another, may not return to school as the fall term begins.

"If this happens, the ex-student should notify Social Security right away so that benefit checks can be stopped. If checks are not stopped quickly enough," Nathan said, "the student may have to repay the money he or she received incorrectly."

Another group of young people, whose benefits were stopped last spring because

New voting system called easier and less expensive

By ED GURNEY

Persons going to the polls in the Nov. 7 general election in Madison County will be using a new voting system, one which is easy to use and is expected to be cheaper than the system utilized for the past eight years.

A punch card voting system will be used throughout Madison County, the system was judged by the County Board to be better than use of the old mechanical voting machines.

"The voters have the capacity of doing anything in this system that they could do with paper ballots or the lever machines," said Evelyn Bowles, county clerk and county election official. Miss Bowles is confident the punch card system will prove to be better.

The punch card system is expected to meet the expanding election needs of Madison County in coming years. It also solves some of the problems encountered with the lever machines, Miss Bowles said.

The redistricting last year of the county's precincts has perhaps the key factor in the decision to find a new election system.

Illinois law specifies the maximum number of people there may be in each precinct. Normally, the county adds only two or three additional precincts after each redistricting, Miss Bowles said.

This time, the number jumped from 197 to 222.

"The county only has 400 lever machines, a number considered too small for 222 precincts. 'We had to start considering some supplemental system,'" the county clerk said.

The County Board's election committee selected the punch card system sold by Computer Election Service of Berkeley, Calif., and distributed here by Illinois Office Supply of Ottawa.

The system was tried on an experimental basis in Godfrey Township in the primary in March. The results convinced the County Board to go to the system throughout the county.

"In Godfrey Township, the election judges were delighted and the voters were very complimentary," Miss Bowles said. Computer Election Service provided the equipment free, so the cost to the county was only $1,980, Miss Bowles said.

The Berkeley firm submitted the best bid, $650,000, on setting up the entire county with the punch card system.

There are other punch card systems. This one is considered desirable to county officials because the ballots will continue to be counted by election judges at each precinct.

There will be a "mini-computer," called the precinct ballot counter, at each precinct. Results from each precinct will be taken to the county courthouse, as usual. "No uncoupled ballots will be transferred," Miss Bowles said.

Another characteristic of the system said to be very important is that individual cards will be used. With the lever machines and new types of electronic systems, there are no individual ballots.

The ballot card to be used this fall has a total of 228 positions.

Each candidate has a position on the ballot, and there will be positions for more than one candidate or propositions.

The county has about 40 more ballot positions than it would have had with a central ballot counter rather than the precinct counter, Miss Bowles said.

There is a capability with the new system of using up to 312 ballot positions. "It's one of the big selling points," Miss Bowles said.

"We're looking down the pike to the consolidation of elections, which has been approved by the legislature."

Under bills approved by the General Assembly, elections are expected to be consolidated in Illinois by December 1990, Miss Bowles said.

Governmental units will be able to hold elections on only five specific days every two years. Therefore, there will be a relatively larger number of matters facing voters each election day.

The county was finding that the lever machines are hard to adapt to its changing needs.

For example, this year for the first time there is a third party for a legislative seat. The county would have had to spend $12,000 in equipment alone to convert the lever machines to handle it, Miss Bowles said.

Other problems in the past helped convince the County Board to go to punch cards.

The pieces of equipment to be used by voters are called "Votomatics." The self-contained units unfold from suitcase-like containers.

The process of voting is simple. First, the voter inserts the ballot card into a slot in the vote recorder.

The voter then leads through a series of pages, which are sealed in the vote recorder, to decide on each race or proposition, or he can vote a straight party ticket.

Using a small stylus, the voter punches holes in the ballot card to indicate his choices. The pages are positioned so that different positions on the ballot card can be used for each candidate and proposition choice.

Since each candidate and proposition choice has a different number, the voter can take the card out of the recorder and visually check to be sure he has punched the right holes, Miss Bowles noted.

The voter then inserts the ballot card in an envelope and gives it to the election judge. The envelope enables the voter to choose a write-in candidate.

The system is so easy to use that Miss Bowles expects few ruined ballots.

The biggest danger is probably voting for more than one candidate in the same race, something which wasn't possible with lever machines. However, that problem didn't occur in Godfrey Township, Miss Bowles said.

The precinct ballot counting machine looks just as easy to operate.

The election judges in each precinct have several special control cards which they feed into the mini-computer first to program it for the exact races and propositions on the ballot of the precinct is using.

Then, the ballot cards are fed into the machine one by one. The machine reads them no matter which way they are inserted.

After all the ballots have been inserted, the judge presses a button and the machine produces a tape listing all the results. The judge can keep pressing the button to get more tapes of the vote results.

It took only 20 minutes to count the votes in Godfrey Township, Miss Bowles said. She expects the machines to lessen the time it takes to provide the public with initial election results.

After voter registration for the general election closes Oct. 10, the county clerk's office will schedule special demonstrations around the county to help acquaint voters with the new system.

In addition, the law requires that demonstration units be set up in each poll for the examination of people before they vote.

Also, voters are being mailed a pamphlet which shows how the Votomatic is used. The pamphlets are being included in a required mailing of proposed constitutional amendments, so they are only costing the county six cents apiece, Miss Bowles said.

The mailing will also help the county clerk's office in its continuous effort to purge the rolls of voters who have moved or died.

Miss Bowles expects the new system to be cheaper than the lever machine system.

The county paid $1,750 for each of the lever machines when they were purchased. It is in the process of trying to sell the machines, Miss Bowles said.

It is hoped the county can get $1,000 for each machine.

The rolls listed 129,701 registered voters in Madison County as of Sept. 8. Miss Bowles hasn't yet made an estimate of the number she expects will vote Nov. 7 (40 percent of the 132,538 registered voters cast ballots in the last off-year general election in 1975), but she hopes the number won't be held down for fear of the new system.

"No one should fail to go to the polls because of the new system," she says in her letter to voters. "I know you will be favorable impressed."

Man arrested after fight

John DeVore, 35, of National City, was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:25 p.m. Monday. He suffered a cut to an eye and facial injuries.

Richard James DuBray, 28, of 1041 Washington Ave., Madison, was arrested at 7:11 p.m. Monday by Venice police at Market and State streets in Venice and charged with battery in connection with the incident.

He was released on $35 cash bond and is to appear in court at 1 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 10.

Restriction of coal hit

"Inappropriate federal air pollution regulations" on the use of coal have been criticized by Bi-State Development Agency Executive Director Barry M. Locke in a speech to a coal industry group in Denver, Colo.

Locke told members of the Western Coal Transportation Association that coal, a relatively cheap energy source, may be the key to the economic well-being of the United States.

"The effective use of our coal reserves will relieve to a large extent," he said, "the current pressure being exerted on the American dollar in international markets, while lessening the domestic inflation rate."

But development of the coal industry is being hindered by costly air pollution regulations and insufficient governmental incentives to promote production, he said.

"I urge you to push for a general relaxation of unsustainable air quality standards, and I urge you to increase pressure for a definitive national energy policy reflective of the economic realities of the 1980s," Locke told association members.

Federal regulations requiring scrubbers on smokestacks of coal-burning power plants add tremendously to the cost of electricity, Locke said.

He assailed as costly a proposed regulation to require Western coal-fired plants using low sulfur coal to install air pollution control equipment.

Locke said Bi-State hopes to use revenue bond authority to help finance construction of a coal transfer terminal to be built in St. Louis by American Commercial Barge Lines, Inc., and Burlington Northern Railroad. By issuing tax-exempt revenue bonds, Bi-State could lower the financing cost of the project for the two companies, he added.

"Bi-State is eager to utilize its revenue bonding authority for projects which can contribute to a rejuvenated economy for both our region and the country as a whole," he said.

Bi-State was formed by Illinois and Missouri in 1960 with statutory authority to plan development in the bi-state area and to carry out other projects, particularly in the transportation field.

The agency currently operates the transportation system in the Gateway Arch, Bi-State Parks Airport in Cahokia, and the region's mass transit system as well as serving as regional port coordinator for the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis.

Work resumes on police station

Construction work on Granite City's new police station at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue resumed Tuesday after the loss of 98 working days due to labor difficulties.

The delay has set the construction timetable back by 12.5 percent, according to Dave Nolan, city project engineer, who said the project will be 50 percent complete by the end of this month.

Work on the police station project was halted Aug. 11 when members of the Granite City Laborers Union went on strike along with laborers in 12 Southern Illinois counties in a contract dispute with the Southern Illinois Builders Association. The strike continued until Sept. 11 (99 working days) when a new contract was approved.

Meanwhile, Nolan said, bricklayers employed on the station project secured work on other jobs and failed to report when the laborers' contract dispute was resolved. Because of the bricklayers' commitment on the other work, they did not return until Tuesday, a loss of an additional 10 working days since the strike settlement.

Nolan said the police station work was 46 percent complete at the time the laborers' strike began.

Entryway adds much to home's appearance

By BARBARA HARTUNG

Q. The entry of our home — basically an old Spanish design — needs some attention. The stairs circle down into this area, cutting up wall space. There is one flat wall, the other side of which is the living room. I'd like to do something interesting but am at a loss. Could I use wallpaper? My problem is I don't know where to end the wallpaper because the entry blends into the living room with only an arch separating the two areas. I have floral and striped fabrics and a patterned Oriental rug in the living room so I don't think a patterned wallpaper would look very well. — F.W.

A. First impressions are important and an entryway establishes the overall feeling of the home. So I think you are right in wanting an inviting and visually attractive area. Often in an area such as you describe it is pleasant to push out a wall visually with either a mural painted on the wall or a mural wallcovering. The nice part about choosing a mural wallcovering is that you can use background paper or vinyl usually to extend beyond the mural. If you choose a design with a particularly attractive plain background material — perhaps a stylized skull look or a slightly knobby texture — you could carry that out of your entry and through your living room, adding more personality to your living room walls but not introducing any additional pattern.

Q. Our living room needs some help. It is a lovely room with open beam ceilings, many windows opening to a deck and windows on one wall with shutters instead of draperies. Above these windows is a plate shelf containing favorite plates, heirlooms, etc. The draperies on the deck side of the room are sheer yellow, the wall color is white with just a touch of yellow. However, the problem is the large white block fireplace. I have tried hanging many things above the fireplace, but thus far have found nothing that really seems correct. A hooked rug has been tried, without success. Other hangings do not seem right so at this point the wall there is blank. A wall next to the fireplace contains a pine wood pendulum clock. One side of the fireplace has bookshelves containing books, plants and other items. Perhaps you can suggest something for above the fireplace that would put this room together and might add an early American flavor. The sharp carpeting is a soft gold. M.D.W.

A. It sounds like you have a fairly dramatic home filled with many interesting things. Not only is the architecture visually demanding but many of your accessories probably are, too. So I wonder if perhaps your fireplace demands something rather dramatic and demanding. Perhaps the rug and hangings haven't been visually important enough for you.

Fireplaces seem to become a focal point in any room and one's eye almost naturally gravitates there. This is partially why designers nearly always try to arrange seating around a fireplace. And it also is why corner fireplaces are difficult to incorporate into a furniture arrangement of a room. So I think you might try something a little off-beat, dramatic and also sculptural or three-dimensional. Have you ever seen homes or pictures of homes with impressive woodcarvings? Or large wall-mounted, interesting sculptural pieces. Maybe even a pair of branching iron. I also have seen a mellow old carousel horse on a large fireplace wall. I think shopping in second hand and antique shops for oddities such as these might turn up some interesting possibilities. Of course, if all else fails you always can install a wooden mantle across the fireplace and place something interesting — such as an impressive old lantern — there.

There's an Answer!

by Norman Vincent Peale and Ruth Stafford Peale

Learning to live with tragic death

Q. My 26-year-old grandson who was very close to me was killed in a motorcycle accident. His car was in the garage for repairs, and he accepted a ride from this young man he had just met.

I don't understand why it had to be my grandson who was killed and the driver only injured slightly. Now can you explain why people say to me, "It was to be?"

I cannot accept this. I need answers, as I think I cannot stand to know he won't be coming in any more.

We live in an organized, orderly universe designed for our good. But sometimes, according to things go wrong.

Often we cannot understand this, but we can learn to accept the accident or tragedy and look for the good that can eventually come out of it.

We have a booklet that has helped others with problems such as yours. It is entitled LET NOT YOUR HEART BE TROUBLED, and a copy of it is on its way to you. Anyone wishing a free copy may write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

What is higher power? Q. (To Dr. Peale) I am trying to ask how you lost your way. I read your answer to compulsive overeating. I did not exactly understand what you were talking about. I know when we turn to God for help He does help, but what does it mean to use the Higher Power?

A. I lost my weight by allowing a diet given to me by my doctor. What I meant by getting help from the Higher Power is that I believed God would help me to discipline my own body and appetite. Also, I visualized myself as being a certain weight and pictured myself as slender. I even went so far as to name the size of my waistline.

I felt that a Higher Power than myself — that is, God power — would be working with me in this process. And it did work. I have kept the weight at the figure I visualized.

Wracked his brain Q. I was married three years ago when I was 20. Everything was fine for a while.

Then my wife told me she couldn't have children. Well, such a blow as it was, I took it in stride.

Then my wife left me after only seven months of marriage, and we've been separated ever since. Now she has a baby which she says is mine, and I seriously doubt it, because I've seen her with other men.

I've wracked my brain trying to decide what to do, divorce or not. I have no peace of mind for I am a somewhat religious person. Please give me an answer.

A. Could be your wife is still infertile, or, ever having married. Marriage has been too much for her. She can't take it or adjust to it.

Not having direct proof of infidelity, give her the benefit of the doubt and believe in her. Realize that she is a mixed-up woman and needs help.

Then be big enough and also wise enough to help her. Think positively about it and keep close to her. Bring her back and you can build a happy marriage, even so.

Pact ratified by university police

Ratification of a two-year contract between Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the university's police officers, represented by Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Warehousemen's Local Union 525, was completed Monday.

Charles Moorleghen, university physical plant director, said the new contract will be effective through Aug. 31, 1980. Moorleghen said the salary package agreed upon represents increases of 5.6 percent the first year and 5.8 percent the second year. Existing meal allowances and shift differentials, with negotiated increases for the second year, will be converted into the base rate effective March 1, 1979.

The current wage rate is $6.50 per hour. Other changes in the contract include: utilization of seniority to determine permanent campus assignments, an increase in clothing allowance from $25 to $40 per month for the department's two investigators, and an expansion of the educational incentive allowance to include additional disciplines.

According to terms of the contract, educational incentive allowances previously applying only to degrees in law enforcement will now also include degrees in psychology, sociology, government and human services.

Commenting on the new contract with the police officers, SIUE Vice-President for Business Affairs Rita Fryers said, "I am pleased we have been able to work out an agreement acceptable both to the university and the union members. In so doing, we have averted a strike which would not have served the interests of either party in the dispute." She praised the efforts of Ed Koenig of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

MAKE IT SCENIC. A plain wall in the entry hall at the base of the stairs extends the eye when the wall is treated with a scenic mural, this one in a contemporary watercolor technique to resemble an actual watercolor painting. Mural is by Van Luit.

Course on job hunting

The secrets of writing a resume that will get interviews is one of the job hunting skills to be presented this fall in a series of nine free sessions at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Others will concentrate on analyzing job skills and developing tactics for the interview, writing letters and campaigning for a job, and understanding the economics of the job market, with special emphasis on government and school employment.

Designed to help any person seeking a career position and job placement, the sessions differ from traditional methods of the job hunt, according to David Van Horn, placement director and instructor for the sessions. "Finding a job does not mean wasting time by going out and knocking on doors," Van Horn said. "It begins with developing a winning resume that gets interviews. It is also knowing how 'not' to approach an employer," he explained.

Each session will focus on new, dynamic procedures "literally unknown to many," Van Horn promised. For best results, however job hunters should attend the first several sessions in sequence beginning with one session of skill analysis which meets Mondays, Oct. 9, 16, 23 or 30, he said.

The sequence continues with resume development on Wednesday, Oct. 11, 18 or 25 and letter writing techniques, Wednesday, Nov. 1/8, 15 or 29.

The remaining six sessions are offered only once: interviewing tactics, Thursday, Nov. 30; the job campaign, Monday, Dec. 4; employers' addresses, Thursday, Jan. 4; municipal, state and government employment, Thursday, Jan. 11; school systems, Thursday, Jan. 18; and job description, sales, supply and demand, Thursday, Jan. 25. All sessions will meet from 10 a.m. until 12 noon in the Ohio Room of the University Center except the Nov. 8 and 15 sessions, scheduled for the International Room.

This might sound crazy coming from a Supermarket "AD" Man, but one of the best ways to get more for your food money is to read "ALL" the Supermarket Ads before you shop. Then plan your menus around the specials, manufacturers' promotions and coupon items. This week, for example, our coupon savings alone total $4.28. Prepare your list incorporating them and don't forget essentials: Return trips to the store are costly.

The reason I feel that it is OK to tell you to read "ALL" the Supermarket Ads is that I check them each week and Tri-City consistently has the better values. Sure, we get beat on a price now and then, but not very often. Check it for yourself... you're sure to agree!
